Changelog

• v1.0: Release (26/8/2019)
Chapter 1: Introduction

Welcome back dear reader to another installation of Hamund’s Harvesting Handbook. By now I’m sure you’ve all cut your teeth on the monsters and creatures featured in Volume I of this series and have come back hungry for more. Well you are in luck, because I have spent the interim hunting and harvesting all of the monsters featured in that seminal work; Volo’s Guide to Monsters (written by another man who appreciates the value of good branding) and have prepared yet another catalogue of the natural riches to be found in the creatures around us.

But wait, there’s more! I have brought back secret spells from forgotten lands, filled a list of new items to craft, and even compiled a compendium of the needy people I met on my travels in the hopes that my readers may lend them a helping hand. The book you hold is more than just an instruction manual, it is a veritable travel guide to adventure!

So, indulge yourselves dear readers in the knowledge that I have gained and now pass onto you. Discover how to skin a sea spawn, gut a grung, and debone a devourer (which is quite a difficult feat considering they are almost nothing but bones). Learn how to craft powerful weapons from the spoils of your hunts, as well as wield new magic to aid you in your work. The sky is the limit in our profession, and even the old dogs among you could still stand to learn a few new tricks.

Good luck and good harvesting.
-Sir Hamund Holderhek, O.B.H. (First Class), V.A., N.K.P.

Aim of this Guide

Thank you for purchasing the second instalment of the “Hamund’s Harvesting Handbook” series. This volume covers the monsters included in Volo’s Guide to Monsters, and as before, features a complete harvesting list for each monster, as well as over 80 new magical items to craft.

The rules for harvesting and crafting are unchanged, but this book does add a few more interesting pieces to add to your harvesting adventures. Premiering in this book are new NPC merchants for you to pull out on the fly, 6 new spells designed to help harvesters, as well as a job board for every monster in the Monster Manual and Volo’s to help DMs make harvesting-based quests on the fly.

Everything has been written with balance in mind, but you are of course feel free to rebalance anything in this guide to suit your own table, or feel free to message me at driftersgameworkshop@gmail.com or hit me up on Twitter @drifterworkshop to discuss anything in this guide.
Chapter 2: How to Harvest

The act of removing useful body parts from a creature is referred to as harvesting. Anything that can be harvested from a creature is referred to as a harvesting material or simply material. In general, only creatures that have died may be harvested, but there may be some exceptions based on context.

This section details the steps associated with actually performing a harvest, and any factors that may influence it.

Appraising

"Half of a harvester’s job is mental, rather than physical. It takes a keen eye, and an analytical mind to fully grasp the nuance of slicing open a fresh kill and reaping the bounty inside. Take your time to evaluate your prize before chopping into it; your wallet will thank me later." - Hamund

Before a player begins hacking and butchering their hunt, they may instead choose to take a moment first and appraise the creature to be harvested. To do this, they must spend 1 minute examining the creature to be harvested and then roll an Intelligence check, adding their proficiency bonus if they are proficient in the skill corresponding to that creature (see table below). For example, when appraising a banderhobb (which is a monstrosity), the check would be an Intelligence (Nature) check, while appraising a meenlock (which is a fey) would require an Intelligence (Arcana) check.

The DC of the check is equal to 8 + the harvested creature’s CR (treating any CR less than 1 as 0). Success on this check grants the player full knowledge of any useful harvesting materials on the creature, the DC requirement to harvest those materials, any special requirements to harvest them, and any potential risks in doing so. In addition, any harvesting check made on that creature by that player is rolled at advantage. A character may only attempt one appraisal check per creature.

Splitting up the Responsibilities

Some party members may prefer to let one character handle the appraisal of materials, while another more dextrous character handles the actual harvesting. In this scenario, all benefits of appraising a creature are conferred to the player doing the harvesting, so long as the player that performed the appraising assists the harvesting player through the whole duration of the harvest.

Harvesting

"The thing we’ve all bought this book to learn: harvesting! Here you will learn the most noble of traditions, dating back to our roots as hunter-gatherers. Read this section well and commit it to memory, for harvesting is the true meat of this book (pardon the pun)" - Hamund

In order to harvest a creature, a character must make a Dexterity ability check using the same skill proficiency as listed in the above appraising table. For example, a character attempting a harvest check on an Aberrant would receive a bonus equal to their Dexterity modifier and their proficiency in Arcana (if they have any).

This check reflects a character’s ability to not only properly remove the intended item without damaging it, it also involves any ancillary requirements of the harvest such as proper preservation and storage techniques.

Using Other Proficiencies

If a player is harvesting a certain creature, or harvesting a creature of a certain type of material, the DM may allow them to use a relevant tool proficiency rather than a skill proficiency.

For example, the DM may allow a player to add their proficiency with Tinker’s Tools to their attempt to harvest a mechanical golem or use their proficiency with leatherworking tools when attempting to harvest a creature for its hide. Alternatively, all creature type proficiencies may be replaced by proficiency with the harvesting kit.

Each individual item in a creature’s harvesting table is listed with a DC next to it. Any roll that a player makes that equals or exceeds this DC grants that player that item. Rewards are cumulative, and a player receives every item with a DC equal to or below their ability check result. For example, rolling a total of 15 on a check to harvest a barghest will reward the player with “barghest blood”, “barghest fur” and “barghest fangs”, but not a “vial of barghest stomach acid”. If they so wish, players may opt to not harvest a material even if they have met the DC threshold to harvest it.

Only one harvesting attempt may be made on a creature. Failure to meet a certain item’s DC threshold assumes that the item was made unsalvageable due to the harvester’s incompetence.

For most creatures, the time it takes to harvest a material is counted in minutes and is equal to the DC of that material divided by 5. For huge creatures however, it is equal in DC of that material, while for gargantuan creatures, it is equal to the DC of that material multiplied by 2.

Hamund, the Harvesting Expert
Particularly violent deaths

"It is a shame, but quite understandable, that no one would want to buy a pelt ridden with slash wounds and burn marks. That is why lately, I have taken to wrestling my quarry with my bare hands. It makes for much more pristine carcasses, and much heartier exercise." - Hamund

This guide assumes that most creatures you attempt to harvest died in direct combat and thus already accounts for the idea that you are harvesting creatures that are not in pristine condition. However, some deaths are more violent than others and can make harvesting useful materials either extremely difficult or downright impossible. Such examples include burning by fire, dissolving from acid, or being completely crushed under a pillar of stone. In these cases, raise the DC for harvesting any of that creature's materials by 5. Alternatively, the DM may decide that well-orchestrated hunts result in a carcass that is prime for harvesting, such as creatures killed mostly through psychic damage, or those killed in one clean attack. In these cases, the DM should lower the DC for harvesting any of that creature's materials by 5.

Furthermore, the DM may adjudicate whether or not some of a creature's individual materials have been made useless due to effects imposed by them in the course of their death. Examples may include blood being tainted from poisoning, or their pelt being worthless due to excessive slashing/piercing damage.

Optional Rule: Carcass Degradation

This guide mostly assumes that harvesting takes place on a freshly killed corpse and that little to no decomposition has yet occurred. However, in some cases, a player may desire to harvest a creature that has been dead for quite a while. In these cases, the DM may declare that certain body parts have already withered away and become unharvestable or may decide to increase the DC's of all harvestable materials as if the creature had died a particularly violent death. If corpse decomposition is too advanced, it is entirely within the DM's right to deny harvesting the creature altogether.

As a quick guide, the following timeline may be observed to decide on decomposition levels:

- 1 hour after death: The carcass' hide has ruptured from bloating and has become useless.
- 1 day after death: The carcass' blood has become too tainted to be useful, and soft tissues like the eyes have putrefied.
- 3 days after death: The carcass' internal organs have decomposed.
- 7 days after death: The carcass has undergone extensive purification and none of its soft tissue remains harvestable.

Note: Harder materials like bones, teeth, claws, and hair do not generally undergo decomposition and will remain usable indefinitely.
Chapter 3: The Harvest Tables

I am aware that in my previous volume, I stated that I was presenting the complete knowledge of harvesting all creatures in the multiverse. While it was true at the time, intrepid explorers other than myself have discovered even more creatures to hunt and harvest. While I am ashamed of misleading my readers, I am humbled by the idea that even I have more to discover and write about in this wonderful lifetime of mine." - Hamund

Understanding the Tables

Every unique monster from Volo’s Guide to Monsters has been listed in this book with an associated harvest table. When your players attempt a harvest, simply look up the relevant monster in this guide, and read out the results (monsters are listed in the same order they are given in Volo’s Guide to Monsters). The following is an explanation of how to read the table.

DC

This is the DC required to harvest this item. Any harvesting check that equals or exceeds this threshold allows the player that made that check to successfully harvest that item.

Item

The name of the item received. While for most items, the player only receives one of the listed item, some item names have parentheses next to them. These indicate the amount that a player receives upon a successful harvest e.g.: Catoblepas Fur (large pouch) or Barghest Blood (5 vials). At the DM’s discretion however, they may adjudicate that a player receives less or more than the stipulated quantity. Such reasons may include extremely high success on a roll, or certain methods in which the creature was killed.

Optional Rule: Harvesting Dangerous Materials

Harvesting some creatures are more dangerous than others. While most creatures are harmless once killed, others possess poisons, acids, and breath sacks that remain active even after the creature’s death. Even worse is that a simple misplaced knife stroke or errant twitch of the hand can lead to these materials accidentally harming the harvester.

Under this optional rule, whenever a harvester rolls below the DC of a harvestable material that has a “Use” section that deals damage, the material is not just lost, it also expends its ability on the harvester. For example, a character that fails to properly harvest a poison would suffer the effect of that poison on themselves, or a character that fails to harvest a breath sack would release the effect of that breath sack in their direction. The exact adjudication of the failure result may change depending on the DM.

Description

A brief description of the item to be harvested, written by Hamund. While this is usually just for flavour, some items also have a “Use” section. These items may be used immediately after being harvested and require no further adjustments or crafting. Their function is described here in the description box.

Additionally, some materials have harvesting requirements beyond just steady hands and a sharp knife. Any extra requirements or criteria for harvesting a material will be listed here.

Value

All materials are listed with their base resell value. This is how much money an average shopkeeper would be willing to pay for the materials in good conditions. DM discretion is advised when varying this value, dependant on shopkeeper mood, rarity within the setting, condition of the material, etc. A material with a value listed as “varies” indicates that its usage is too specific for it to be sold to an average shopkeeper, and the value of the material would depend heavily on context.

When items are harvested in discrete quantities, the value listed refers to each individual item. For example, Barghest Blood is harvested as a set of 5 vials, and so the value listed (1 gp) refers to each individual vial (so successfully harvesting Barghest Blood would be worth 5 x 1 gp = 5 gp). When items are listed as indiscrinate quantities however, the value listed refers to the entire quantity. For example, Maw Demon Teeth is harvested in the indiscrinate quantity of a: “large bag.” Thus the 1 gp value listed refers to the value of a “large bag of Maw Demon Teeth,” not 1 gp for each individual tooth.

Value Factors

The values listed here are based on a myriad of factors including: CR of the monster, average treasure horde values, use in crafting, whether the monster tends to be found alone, whether the item is consumable, probability of successfully harvesting the item, balance around existing prices, and sometimes just for flavour. These prices are intended as a baseline only, and the DM is free to adjust these values as they see fit for their campaign. The DM is also to keep in mind that, although certain items may have high values, not all vendors may want to buy them. For example, although Devourer Skin may be worth the high price of 2,250 gp, it may be difficult to sell it to the village grocer. Sometimes, finding the right buyer for an esoteric item can be an entertaining side quest in and of itself, or simply used as a good downtime activity.
Weight
The weight of the item listed in pounds. The weight listed here follows the same rules as values do; the listed number refers to the weight of individual items, unless that item is harvested in indistinct quantities, in which case the weight refers to the whole indistinct quantity.

Crafting
Some items, although valuable, require a skilled artisan to craft them into a usable item. The material’s description details which item they can be crafted into. If this section is blank, the item has no craftable item associated with it.

The section of crafted items at the end of this book details the usage of crafted items, as well as details on their crafting requirements. Some craftable items originate from published source books from WotC. These receive special tags in brackets that denote which book they come from. For more information on crafting visit Chapter 4.

Humanoid Trinket Tables
“While it is still considered rather ghastly practice to harvest a humanoid, looting their corpses is considered marginally less so. This is good news, especially since I have found that the quality of dropped loot has increased as of late.” - Hamund

Most humanoids listed in this book do not possess many useful materials to harvest. In order to complement the relatively bare tables of humanoids, a separate table is listed in their section describing items that may be plundered off of these creatures. These items tend to be random trinkets and are not weapons or armour. More often than not, they are relatively useless and are intended only to be used for resale.

There is no ability check required to pilfer these trinkets, and the DM is free to decide which of these trinkets can be found on a typical corpse (if any at all). These tables are intended to largely be used as DM inspiration and to sate the lust of loot-hungry players while avoiding the ghoulish activity of dismembering a humanoid corpse. New tables have been provided for humanoids that already appeared in the Monster Manual. The DM is free to choose which table they wish to use.

Like all harvested items, the value and weight listed refers to 1 unit of the respective item in that row.

Banderhobb

“I remember the first time I encountered a banderhobb. A hag had sent one to kill me because I had trounced her in a game of riddles and took one of her precious jewels as a prize. Now obviously, I prevailed over my hunter, and the only vengeance the hag achieved was that I ended up having to wash banderhobb goo off my clothes for a week afterwards.” - Hamund

Boggle

“Neither particularly strong nor smart, a boggle is really more of a nuisance than an actual threat. That said, their oil is particularly useful in harvesting, as the sticky variety works wonders for traps, while the slippery kind is a great knife coating substance for smoother and cleaner cuts. As such, on my travels I often provide boggle removal services free of charge, so long as I am allowed to keep the spoils.” - Hamund

While not the strongest of substances, it can prove to be quite the nuisance (as anyone with a boggle in their house will discover after they rise from their chamber pot to discover it sticking to their backside). Use: You may spend an action to coat yourself with this oil. For the next hour, you have advantage on Strength (Athletics) checks made to grapple and any ability check made to maintain a hold on another creature, surface, or object. You can also climb difficult surfaces, including upside down on ceilings, without needing to make an ability check. Alternatively, you may spend an action to pour this oil on the ground, creating a 5 foot puddle where poured for 1 hour. Any creature that enters that puddle or starts its turn there must succeed on a DC 11 Strength saving throw or be restrained. On its turn, a creature can use an action to try to extricate itself from the sticky puddle, ending the effect and moving into the nearest safe unoccupied space with a successful DC 11 Strength check.</td>

This fact has made cave fishers particularly valuable for hunters trying to make some quick cash. Use: This filament may be unspooled like a regular piece of rope. Demons

“More and more demons just keep popping out the woodwork, and still none of them have the decency to leave a valid carcass unless I slay them on their home plane! I guess that’s the reason they say that fiends are responsible for driving mortals insane.” - Hamund

Due to their abyssal nature, demons slain on the Material Plane cannot be harvested, as their carcass dissolves into a foul ichor instead. This ichor serves no purpose and is effectively useless. In order to properly harvest a demon, they must be killed in the Abyss.

Furthermore, using parts harvested from a demon comes with certain risks, as their corrupting influence remains even after their death. When a player consumes or attunes to an item made from a demon part, roll a d20. On a 10 or less, that player contracts a curse from using that item. The curse persists even after the normal effects of that item have finished and is only removed when the player is targeted by the remove curse spell or similar magic. If a character is cured of a curse caused by an attunement item, they are not allowed to attempt to attune to that item again. The DM may pick the curse themselves, or roll for it on the table below.

If the curse came from a non-consumable item, there is an additional aspect of the curse that reads: “You have a constant need to be within reach of the cursed item and are unwilling to part from it. You feel a need to have it equipped whenever feasibly possible.”

Fiendish Curse

- d6 Curse
  - 1: You feel a rage constantly bubbling under your emotions, threatening to burst at any moment. Whenever a hostile creature damages you, you must succeed on a DC 15 Wisdom saving throw or go berserk. While berserk, you must use your action each round to attack the creature nearest to you. If you can make extra attacks as part of the Attack action, you use those extra attacks, moving to attack the next nearest creature after your fell your current target. If you have multiple possible targets, you attack one at random. You are berserk until you start your turn with no creatures within 60 feet of you that you can see or hear.
  - 2: An unholy aura surrounds your spirit at all times. While this aura is invisible to any being that cannot see magic directly, creatures nevertheless feel its effects subconsciously and shun those who bear it. While cursed like this, you have disadvantage on any Animal Handling check and any Persuasion check made to try to persuade a non-evil creature.
  - 3: The demonic tinge in your body makes you no different to a normal demon in the eyes of those who hunt them. You are considered to have an evil alignment regardless of your actual alignment, and your type is considered to be fiend, along with your regular type. You have disadvantage on any Charisma (Persuasion) check made to convince a good-aligned creature, and you also gain a vulnerability to radiant damage.
  - 4: Constant whispers fill your mind, confusing your thoughts and weakening your resolve. You have disadvantage on all Wisdom saving throws.
  - 5: Your fiendish corruption weakens your resolve when fighting against other demons. You have disadvantage on attack rolls against demons and on saving throws against their spells and special attacks.
  - 6: An unnatural hunger pervades your thoughts and enfeebles your movements. Any time you go more than 3 consecutive hours without eating at least 1 pound of food, make a DC 10 Constitution saving throw. On a failed save, you gain 1 level of exhaustion. The DC increases by 5 for every additional 3 hours you spend without consuming a pound of food. Both the DC and your exhaustion level is reset upon consuming at least 1 pound of food.

The massive toes of a brontosaurus are strong and durable enough to support its considerable weight. As such, they make wonderful materials to bludgeon one’s opponent with.

One would think that the massive neck of a brontosaurus would not be able to support itself, and yet amazingly it does. Even more amazingly, this is achieved not through magic but by mere physics; the neck of a brontosaurus is actually filled with several air sacks that help support its neck and saves on weight. These air sacks may be repurposed for various tools and equipment, including buoyancy aids for ship hulls.

“Despite having the riches of the mountain available to them, firenewts have never amounted to much in terms of having a society, especially when compared to the dwarves. Still, their militaristic nature means that their soldiers are often well equipped, so stripping their pockets can yield greater rewards than stripping their carcasses.” - Hamund

Giants
"It is often a point of contention among scholars on what is actually the taxological difference that separates giants and humans. After all, in many ways the giants are just large humans (or dwarves or halflings or gnomes, for that matter). In my studies of them however, I have found that a giant’s physiology is extremely malleable, allowing them to either alter themselves or be altered by environmental factors much more than the average humanoid. Perhaps this is an added feature of the Ordning, allowing individual giants greater ability to delineate themselves within their caste, or even break free from it altogether. Either way, it makes for an exciting harvesting adventure, since when you cut one open, you can never be exactly sure of what you’ll find." - Hamund

Harvest Table: H

Hags

“By now I hope all my readers are aware of the perils of harvesting hags and the risks of contracting crone’s disease. I advise for one to place a rag around one’s mouth and nose to minimise the chance of bodily fluid transfer, as well as to block out the stench of the oft unwashed hag.” - Hamund

Perhaps reflective of their spiteful nature in life, hags continue to display an unmatched level of vindictiveness even in death. Upon their death, a reaction takes place immediately in the bodily fluids of a hag that makes them a vector for transmitting “Crone’s Disease.” Whenever a creature imbibes any bodily fluids from a deceased hag, they must succeed on a DC 15 Constitution saving throw or become infected with crone’s disease. A character whose harvesting check fails to harvest anything from the hag also runs the risk of contracting crone’s disease from splashing blood in an orifice or in an open wound.

Upon contracting crone’s disease, 1 of the victim’s facial features/body parts immediately transforms to look more hag-like. For example, their nose may become hooked, or their hands become claw-like. Every 24 hours, the victim may attempt the saving throw again. On a success, the disease ends, and every 24 hours subsequently, 1 transformed feature returns to normal. On a failure, another facial feature or body part changes to become more hag-like, and the disease continues. Every 7 days, any currently transformed feature becomes permanent even after the disease is cured. At that point, only restorative magic such as that of the spell greater restoration may return the creature to their normal appearance.

Harvest Table: K

“So strong is the ki-rin’s compassion for other living creatures, that it can influence their behavior even after its death. Items crafted from a ki-rin shine with such magnificence that they can inspire even the lowliest of ne’er do-wells to altruism. I have seen this with my own hands when a notorious drinking buddy of mine turned his life around after a mere glance at a bundle of golden ki-rin fur. While I am happy that he has found peace in his life, I do miss having someone to sip whiskey with after a long day’s journey.” - Hamund

A ki-rin is such a force of good that their body parts are capable of influencing the morality and alignment of those around them. Whenever you consume or finish a long rest attuned to an item made from a material harvested from a ki-rin, you have a 10 per cent chance of having your alignment changed to lawful good for the next 24 hours. A greater restoration spell or similar magic will revert you to your original alignment early.

<td>A pearly-white substance found in distilled morkoth blood, this humor is believed to be derived from the celestial substance that first birthed this bizarre species. The celestial substance was believed to be some sort of solidified healing magic, lost in the chaotic spaces of the Astral Plane. As such, it makes for a fantastic base for particularly powerful healing potions or to bolster one's healing magic. Use: When you cast a spell that would result in a creature recovering hit points without doing damage, you may expend 1 or more vials of morkoth humor as an additional material component. If you do so, you skip rolling a certain amount of dice to determine the amount of hit points recovered, and instead gain the maximum value of that dice roll. "One of my more embarrassing escapades involved me attempting to research more on the lifestyles and culture of the neogi. While I did manage to get in, their mind-altering psionic powers made me remember very little about my stay afterwards. The most I had to show for it was the organs I had pulled from the guards I killed during my escape, which all things considered, wasn't such a bad result either." - Hamund

"There is some debate as to whether the trapper is related to the infamous dungeon-dwelling cloaker. While it is true that one is a monstrosity and the other an aberration, their similar abilities of illusion and obfuscation, plus the parallels in their internal physiology are not to be ignored. Of course, while it is entirely possible that these are simply the results of convergent evolution, I encourage the research into this line of thinking (especially since it raises the demand from researchers for cloaker and trapper carcasses)" - Hamund

"I remember when I first started learning the art of harvesting, old master Chien gave me an assignment to dissect a fresh yeth hound he had brought home. I recall him chuckling in the corner as I futilely attempted to cut into it with my scalpel, not realising that the hounds may only be pierced by silver or magical instruments. Apparently, this is a prank he enjoys pulling on all of his students, and he never fails to bring it up whenever I visit him for tea." - Hamund

<td>Merrshaulk, the Master of the Pit, was once the prime deity of the yuan-ti pantheon before he was unseated in some unknown event. He slumbers now, but still lends his mark (a cobra head) to his most devout followers: the stoic pit masters. With his blessing, they maintain the traditions of the yuan-ti, whether that be through diplomacy or by force. Use: While holding this mark, if you are forced to roll a saving throw to resist being charmed or put to sleep, you may invoke the power of this mark to automatically succeed on that saving throw. Once this ability has been used 5 times, this mark crumbles into dust and becomes worthless.</td>

Chapter 4: Crafting

As harvesting evolves, so too does crafting. As always, I have brought the spoils from my harvesting adventures back to my crafting contacts in order to discover what new wonders can be created. I present them here, so you too may harness the strength that nature provides.” - Hamund

Crafting Rules

While some creature parts are useful fresh from the carcass, many require some alterations before their full potential can be realised. These items can be identified due to having a craftable item listed in their crafting column. As crafting is a very natural complement to harvesting, an entire chapter has been devoted to its rules here.

Crafters

In order to craft a harvested item into a usable item, it must be worked on by a skilled crafter. Crafters are specialised professionals with the knowledge to turn raw materials into something usable. Crafters also tend to be of a certain type, covering different types of items to be made (see “Crafter Types” below).

Both player characters and NPCs may act as crafters, so long as they fulfil the stipulated requirements for their crafter type.

Crafters also need to have the right equipment and tools in order to craft an item, however that aspect is left up to the discretion of the DM and the suitability of the setting. In more fantastical campaigns, magical forges and laboratories may line every city bazaar, while in more grounded settings, finding appropriate facilities may be a quest in and of itself.

Materials, Time, and Cost

Each craftable item listed in this guide requires at least one harvestable material from a monster’s harvesting table to act as a base component of the item. This base component provides the driving magical force that allows the item to function. The harvesting material and quantity of the materials required are listed in the description of the craftable item. For some craftable items, there are several potential harvestable materials that may act as the base component. In these cases, any of the listed materials may be used.

Craftable items require more than just the base component provided by harvested materials, however. Crafting an item requires a cost covering other requirements such as tools, facilities, and extra materials. Note that this cost does NOT include the cost of actually hiring a crafter, and that such a cost is considered separate. Assuming that the players are providing the base component for a craftable material, the value of this base component can be deducted from the end cost of crafting the item.

Finally, craftable items take a certain amount of time before they can be completed. The breakdown of the time and cost investment to craft an item is listed in the Magic Item Crafting Time and Cost table on the next page.

*Halved for a consumable item like a potion or scroll.

This guide uses the rules for crafting in Xanathar’s Guide to Everything as the basis for the crafting rules presented here. DM’s are encouraged to adjust these numbers based on the needs of their own games.

Optional Rule: Crafter Skill

Not all crafters are created equal. While a village blacksmith may be good at fixing scythes and making nails, if you hand them a dragon scale, the best you will get back is a ruined dragon scale and an apologetic look. If you have high quality materials, you’re going to need a high quality crafter.

While under the base rules, anyone can craft anything so long as they meet the base proficiency requirements, under this optional rule, crafters are differentiated based on their proficiency bonus. A crafter may craft any item whose rarity is equal to or below their proficiency bonus as outlined in the Crafting Skill Proficiency table on the next page.

Crafter Type

You don’t ask a blacksmith to cut the timbers of your house, and you don’t ask an alchemist to craft you a suit of armour. If you want an item crafted, you need the right person for the job. Each craftable item comes with a tag in brackets explaining which type of crafter is capable of making that item.

Crafters are not restricted to a single profession either. Some skills are complimentary, or certain individuals are simply talented enough to cover multiple fields. Unless otherwise stated, crafters with multiple proficiencies use the same score for each field.

The following is a basic rundown of crafter types:
Artisan

Usually an apprentice, assistant, or self-taught practitioner. Knows how to use the tools properly but has little skill with more difficult materials and no ability to make new ideas.

<tr>
<td>+3 Journeyman</td>
<td>Uncommon</td>
<td>A craftsmen that serves their village or works in a specific role within their profession. Knows a few things very well, but most likely would not be able to understand the complexities of more exotic materials.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>+4 Artisan</td>
<td>Rare</td>
<td>The highest level of skill that most ordinary people could hope to attain. Capable of establishing a good trade in a city or in service of a noble. Experienced in almost all aspects of their profession and can work with some confidence on rarer materials.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>+5 Master</td>
<td>Very Rare</td>
<td>While hard work and dedication is always valuable, only a few people possess the inherent talent to push the limits of their craft farther than ordinary people. These talented individuals can be considered masters of their art; capable of not just reproduction, but innovation.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>+6 Grand Master</td>
<td>Legendary</td>
<td>An absolute master of their art. Most likely was either an adventurer in their past, or learned their trade from a supernatural force, as this would be the only way for them to become accustomed to the legendary materials that they work with. Capable of crafting any item that falls under their profession.</td>
</tr>

Alchemist

Alchemy is a profession that deals with the brewing and mixing of potions, concoctions, and tinctures. In general, if an organic material needs to be crushed, powdered, dried, boiled, melted, burned, mixed, etc., it’s a job for an alchemist.

As part of their job, alchemists must also be experienced herbalists and have some knowledge of creature parts, but this level of knowledge may vary wildly from alchemist to alchemist. For example, village alchemists may know how to mix up local herbs with dried animal parts to cure a cold, while an elvish grandmaster may have learned the 12 secret uses of dragon blood.

Any character that has proficiency with alchemy tools may be considered an alchemist for crafting purposes.

Artificer

A catch-all term for anyone who works primarily in the moulding, transfiguration, enchanting, and manufacture of magical items. Often powerful wizards, their job requires them to not only understand magic, but also be able to weave permanent spells to transform mundane objects into wondrous ones. A common practice among artificers working with harvested materials is to transfigure them into gems and other objects more conducive to humanoid wear.

As part of their job, an artificer would have knowledge of the uses of magical creature parts, spellwork, the use and preparation of magical reagents (crushed gems, incense, etc), magical identification, magical history, and basic metal and woodworking. Of course, not all artificers have the same level of skill. Some may spend their entire lives mass manufacturing the same magical trinkets day in and day out, while others have ventured to far planes and learned ancient lessons in the courts of djinni princes.

Any character that is proficient in the Arcana skill and has access to at least one spell slot may be considered an artificer for crafting purposes.

Blacksmith

A hammer striking anvil, the roar of a heated forge, and the hiss of cooling metal. These are the sounds of a blacksmith’s shop, the masters and crafters of metal. While the job of a blacksmith is usually simplified to a “metalworker,” the role encompasses so much more.

Blacksmiths craft and fix all manners of equipment ranging from farming equipment, to weapons, to suits of armour. Not only that, but while blacksmiths normally deal strictly with metal, many creature shells, bones, and scales require metal reinforcement and/or attachments before they can be used as weapons and armour. As such, even though they are organic materials, it is still primarily a blacksmith’s responsibility to craft with them.

Blacksmith skills can vary wildly. The local blacksmith may only have a small forge from where they repair the hammers and scythes of their neighbours, while the master smiths of dwarven kingdoms smelt adamantine in rivers of magma at the heart of volcanoes.

Any character that is proficient in the smith’s tools may be considered a blacksmith for crafting purposes.

Leatherworker

Metal armour doesn’t agree with everyone, and many creatures have perfectly good hides that they won’t be using anymore. For times like these, a leatherworker is required. It is a long and messy job to take raw hides, tan them, preserve them, cut them, and fashion them into armour and other equipment, but most societies would break down without this crucial industry.

While leatherworkers are often looked down upon for their unpleasant job, these are usually just the leatherworkers that deal with mundane animal hides and skins. Highly skilled leatherworkers however are treated with the utmost respect since without them, your skinned Purple Worm hides would go completely to waste.

Any character that is proficient in the leatherworker’s tools may be considered a leatherworker for crafting purposes.
Tinker

Tinkers are a rare profession, but their work possesses incredible value. Tinkers are usually associated with finnicky contraptions and devices, and if they ever use magic it is usually more of an energy source rather than the driving characteristic. Really, tinkers are more concerned with finding new materials with strange properties to experiment with, and their inventions can range from the entertaining to the absolutely revolutionary.

With that in mind, tinkers vary widely in skill. A travelling peddler may have some experience in making mechanical puppets that flail around for the amusement of children, while the daring few that have travelled to Mechanus and returned alive may have unlocked the secrets of artificial life.

Any character that is proficient in the tinker’s tools may be considered a tinker for crafting purposes.

Thaumaturge

When a piece of armour needs the blessings of a god, or a sword needs a spirit coaxed into it, a thaumaturge is needed. These specialised crafters usually do not consider themselves crafters at all, but simply people with special connections to the gods and their divine energy.

Thaumaturges are not limited to just those that worship the gods either; many fiendish cults can boast their own specialised thaumaturge members that craft their cursed daggers and bind damned souls into pieces of jewellery.

As strange as it is to say, the gods do not see everyone as equals, and certainly do not apportion their gifts impartially. A vagrant holy man is probably capable of invoking his god’s name to create a few vials of holy water, while a high cleric of Moradin would be able to bless a hammer so that it strikes with the same fury as their furious deity.

Any character that is proficient in the Religion skill has access to at least one spell slot, and is a follower of a deity or otherworldly patron, may be considered a thaumaturge for crafting purposes.

Crafting Items from Published Books

Some craftable items originate from official source books published by Wizards of the Coast. In order to avoid lifting large sections of their book and reproducing them here, you are encouraged to look them up in their original books. The source book has been tagged next to the craftable item’s name: PHB for Player’s Handbook, DMG for Dungeon Master’s Guide, and XGTE for Xanathar’s Guide to Everything.

In order to understand the quantities of harvestable materials required and the type of crafter, consult the table on the following page.

Craftable Items A-Z

Craftable items are presented in alphabetical order. A craftable item's description gives the item's name, its category, its rarity, its base component, the crafter type required to make it, and its magical properties.

Amulet of Dragonkin
Wondrous item, common
Crafted by: Guard Drake Heart x1 (Artificer)
This amulet is the same color as the guard drake from whom it was crafted. While wearing this amulet, your appearance takes on a more dragon-like aesthetic. You grow patches of scales over your body (the same color as the amulet), your eyes become lizard-like, your teeth grow sharper and you grow a foot-long, prehensile tail from your back. You gain no other benefits from this amulet, however. All these attributes disappear instantly if the amulet is removed.

Amulet of Enslavement
Wondrous item, rare
Crafted by: Neogi Eye x1 (Artificer)
While you are wearing this amulet, any charm effect that currently afflicts you is considered to have an infinite duration instead of its usual duration. Once this amulet has been worn for a cumulative total of 24 hours, it crumbles into dust and becomes worthless.

Amulet of Imix
Wondrous item, rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Mark of Imix x1 (Thaumaturge)
While you are wearing and attuned to this amulet, you gain 5 temporary hit points whenever you reduce an enemy to 0 hit points. In addition, any time you are forced to roll a Constitution saving throw to maintain control of a fire elemental or maintain concentration on a spell that deals fire damage, you do so at advantage.

Amulet of Telepathic Control
Wondrous item, very rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Telepathic Gland x1 (Artificer)
While wearing this amulet, you gain the following abilities:
- You have telepathy out to a range of 1 mile
- You are aware of the presence of creatures within 100 feet of you that have an Intelligence score of 4 or higher. You know the distance and direction to those creatures but can't sense anything else about them.
- You may cast the dominate monster spell without requiring any components or using any spell slots. Once this ability has been used once, it cannot be used again until the next dawn.

Amulet of the Closed Heart
Wondrous item, rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Alhoon Heart x1 (Artificer)
While wearing this amulet, you are immune to magic that allows other creatures to read your thoughts, determine whether you are lying, know your alignment, or know your creature type. Creatures can telepathically communicate with you only if you allow it.
In addition, you gain the ability to spend your action to create a pulse of emotionally dampening mental energy in a 30-foot radius around yourself. Any creature in that radius that is under a charm or fear condition that would end on a successful saving throw may immediately attempt that saving throw, adding your Intelligence modifier in addition to their normal modifiers.

Amulet of the Forest
Wondrous item, rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Wood Woad Eye x2 (Artificer)
This green amulet possesses two sparkling motes of light inside of it. While wearing this amulet, you may spend 1 minute focusing on a living tree within 5 feet of you. If you do so, you gain an innate bond with that tree that lasts for the next 24 hours. This bond grants the tree a low level of sentience, similar to the speak with plants spell, with the additional bonus that you and the tree may communicate over any distance so long as you are both on the same plane of existence. You may also spend your action to experience what the tree is experiencing until the start of your next turn, during which you are deaf and blind regarding your own senses.
In addition, you may spend 10 minutes focusing on a square patch of soil that is 5 feet on each side. At the end of that 10 minutes, a tree magically grows from that patch of soil. The tree has a diameter of 5 feet and grows until it is 20 feet tall or reaches a solid object above it, whichever comes first. You automatically have an innate bond with this tree, and it disappears automatically 24 hours after it has been created. You may only have one of these trees at a time, attempting to create a new one while another already exists causes the earlier one to disappear early.

Amulet of the Mind Flayer
Wondrous item, rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Mind Flayer Heart x1 (Artificer)
While you are wearing this amulet, you may spend an action to designate up to 4 willing creatures within 30 feet of you as your thralls. So long as you and your thralls are on the same plane of existence, you may communicate with them telepathically. In addition, so long as you and at least one of your thralls are within 30 feet of each other, you both gain advantage on Intelligence saving throws, and if you suffer psychic damage, you may spend your reaction to force your thrall to suffer some, or all of that damage instead of you. You may only have up to 4 creatures as your thralls at a time. If you wish to add a new creature, you must spend an action breaking your connection to one of your old ones first. Curse: Using this amulet is a dangerous proposition due to its incredibly vile origins. Attuning to this amulet curses you until you are targeted by the remove curse spell or similar magic; removing this amulet fails to end the curse. While cursed, you automatically fail on saving throws imposed by members of the illithid race, including elder brains and intellect devourers.
Anathema Device
Wondrous item, rare
Crafted by: Anathema Heart x1 (Tinker)
This yuan-ti heart is encased in a complicated contraption of copper wires and other mechanical pieces. You may spend your action to activate this contraption, causing it to shock the heart and forcing it to beat. So long as the heart is beating, you emit an aura of fear in a 30-foot radius circle centered on yourself. Any creature of your choice that starts their turn in that circle must succeed on a DC 17 Wisdom saving throw or become frightened for 1 minute of any member of your race. A frightened target can repeat the saving throw at the end of each of its turns, ending the effect on itself on a success. If a target’s saving throw is successful or the effect ends for it, the target is immune to this aura for the next 24 hours.

The heart remains beating for 1 minute, or until you drop it from your hand. Once this item has been used once, it cannot be used again for 24 hours.

Antimagic Shield
Armor (shield), very rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Flail Snail Shell x1/3 (Blacksmith)
While wearing this shield, you have advantage on saving throws against spells, and any creature making a spell attack against you has disadvantage on the attack roll. If you succeed on your saving throw against a spell, or if a spell attack misses you, an additional effect might occur, as determined by rolling a d6:

- 1-2: If the spell affects an area or has multiple targets, it fails and has no effect. If the spell targets only you, it has no effect on you and is reflected back at the caster, using the spell slot level, spell save DC, attack bonus, and spellcasting ability of the caster.
- 3-4: No additional effect.
- 5-6: The shield converts some of the spell’s energy into a burst of destructive force. Each creature within 30 feet of you must make a DC 15 Constitution saving throw, taking 1d6 force damage per level of the spell on a failed save, or half as much damage on a successful one.

This shield loses all its magical properties 1 month after being crafted. After this point, the shield may be reused to create a spellguard shield, counting for 2,000 gp of the crafting cost.

Armor of the Forest Sentinel
Armor (splint), rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Wood Wood Bark x1 (Artificer)
Despite being made entirely of bark, this set of armor possesses the same attributes as a normal set of splint armor.

In addition, while wearing this armor, you may cast the tree stride spell once per day without requiring any spell components or spell slots.

Bag of Coldling
Wondrous item, uncommon
Crafted by: Frost Giant Tongue x1/4 (Leatherworker)
This bag has a permanent enchantment on it that causes any organic material inside it to be kept in a state of preservation as if it had the spell gentle repose cast upon it. This effect wears off as soon as the item is removed from the bag, and the bag must be completely closed in order for its ability to function. The bag is capable of holding up to 3 cubic feet of material inside it and its opening can open up to 1 foot in diameter.

Bewildering Bagpipes
Wondrous item, uncommon
Crafted by: Grung Bladder x1 (Tinker)
This set of bagpipes creates a sound similar to that of a grung’s chirr when used. If a bard uses this instrument as a spellcasting focus while attempting to cast a spell that would impose the charm condition on a target, the range of that spell is doubled.

Big Catch Hooks
Wondrous item, common
Crafted by: Sea Spawn Teeth x1 small bag (Artificer)
This set of 10 hooks are carved from sea spawn teeth and may be attached to any standard fishing rod. Any fish within 10 feet of this hook that can see it must succeed on a DC 10 Wisdom saving throw or be charmed by the hook for 1 minute.

While charmed in this way, the fish must spend their movement each turn moving as close to the hook as possible, and their action to bite onto the hook if they can reach it. A charmed fish may attempt the saving throw again at the end of each of its turns or whenever it takes damage, ending the effect on itself on a success. A fish that succeeds on their saving throw is immune to the effect of this hook for 24 hours.

Bite of Varpak
Weapon (any piercing or slashing weapon), very rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Mark of Varpak x1 (Thaumaturge)
As a bonus action, you may activate this weapon. It remains active for 1 minute or until you deactivate it as another bonus action or drop it. While activated, any successful attacks made with this weapon deal an extra 1d6 acid damage. In addition, whenever you make a successful attack against a creature made of flesh, you heal an amount of hit points equal to the amount of acid damage dealt by this weapon.

Cure: While attuned to this weapon you are cursed. While cursed in this way, you cannot voluntarily end your attunement to this weapon and the amount of food you require to eat per day is doubled. If you spend a day without eating this amount of food, you automatically gain one level of exhaustion and have a 25 per cent chance of gaining a troll-like mutation such as: discolored skin, warty scars, or vestigial body parts. Casting the remove curse spell on you or this weapon ends the curse and breaks your attunement to this weapon. However, it does not end any of the mutations you may have gained, which may only be removed if you are targeted by the greater restoration spell or similar magic.

Bloodhunter’s Lens
Wondrous item, rare
Crafted by: Death Kiss Main Eye x1 (Artificer)
While wearing this crimson monocle lens, you may activate it by spending your action to speak its command word. While activated, the blood of all creatures within 60 feet of you appear as an extremely bright, red light. You can see this blood even if it is fully obstructed (such as from being within a creature’s body or behind a wall), in darkness, or invisible. You may deactivate the lens at any time by speaking its command word again as an action.

The lens can be activated for 1 hour, all at once or in smaller increments, using a minimum of 1 minute each time it is activated. The lens regains 10 minutes of use for every 6 hours it is not in use.
Boots of Iron Gait
Wondrous item, uncommon
Crafted by: Redcap Boots x1 (Blacksmith)
While wearing these boots, you have disadvantage on Dexterity (Stealth) checks, and if you are ever subjected to an effect that would move you against your will, you may spend your reaction to instead not move so long as you are standing on solid ground.

Boots of Stone Strength
Wondrous item, rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Korred Hoof x2 (Artificer)
These hard-toed boots grant their wearer the sturdiness of the earth itself. While wearing these boots and standing on either stone or soil, you gain the following benefits:

- You gain a tremorsense out to a range of 30 feet.
- If you are subjected to an effect other than gravity that would attempt to move you against your will, you may spend your reaction to instead not move.
- You ignore any penalties to your movement speed that would be imposed by walking over non-magical stone or soil.

Breastplate of the Boundary
Armor (breastplate), very rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Devourer Ribcage x1 (Thaumaturge)
While wearing and attuned to this breastplate, you constantly teeter on the boundary between life and death. You have resistance to necrotic damage, and if you end your turn with 0 hit points, you regain 1 hit point. In addition, you are immune to any spell or ability that would attempt to kill you instantly without dealing damage, instantly reduce you to 0 hit points without dealing damage, or attempt to remove your soul from your body without your consent (except for the curse described below).

Curse: Attuning to this armor curses you until you are targeted by the remove curse spell or similar magic which ends your attunement; removing the armor fails to end the curse. While cursed, the amount of death saving throw failures required to kill you is reduced by 1. In addition, if you die while wearing this armor, your soul is consumed by the breastplate and is instantly transported to Orcus to do with as he wishes. Your corpse is transformed into a devourer on full hit points which is hostile to any creature their corpse for at least 1 minute or if 24 hours pass since you last designated a quarry.

Cap of Aggression
Wondrous item, uncommon (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Redcap Cap x1 (Artificer)
While wearing this cap, you may spend your bonus action to designate a creature within 60 feet of you that you can see and that has blood in their body as your quarry. As part of your Attack action, you may choose to move up to your speed in the direction of your quarry. In addition, the first successful melee weapon attack you make against your quarry on your turn deals an extra damage dice of damage, and the same applies to your quarry's first successful melee weapon attack against you on their turn.

You may only have one quarry at a time and any attempt at designating a new target as your quarry while you already have a quarry automatically fails. A target remains your quarry until you bathe this cap in fresh blood from their corpse for at least 1 minute or if 24 hours pass since you last designated a quarry.

Cleric's Bane Poison
Poison, rare
Crafted by: Yurtrus Ichor x1 vial (Alchemist)
Can be used to coat up to 5 pieces of slashing or piercing ammunition or one slashing or piercing weapon. Applying the poison takes 1 action. For the next minute, any creature successfully hit must succeed on a DC 13 Constitution saving throw or become poisoned. While poisoned in this way, a creature also cannot regain hit points.

Cloak of the Storm Spirit
Wondrous item, legendary (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Storm Giant Spirit x1 (Leatherworker)
This electric-blue cloak emanates a constant low hum of the sound of thunder. While wearing and attuned to this cloak, you have resistance to lightning and thunder damage. In addition, you may spend your action to speak the cloak's command word and transform yourself into a living storm for 1 minute or until you spend your action to speak the command word again.

As a living storm, you lack a corporeal form and are instead a vague humanoid shape roughly the same height as your original form and made of lightning, clouds, and rain. Anything you are wearing or carrying disappears during this time and reappears once you transform back into your true form. As a living storm, you gain the following traits:

- You are immune to lightning and thunder damage and have resistance to nonmagical attacks.
- Your unarmed strikes deal an additional 1d6 lightning damage.
- You have a flying (hover) and swim speed equal to your walking speed.
- You may move through a space as narrow as 1 inch wide without squeezing. You may also enter a hostile creature's space and stop there. The first time you enter a creature's space on a turn, or if a creature starts their turn in a space occupied by you, that creature takes 2d6 lightning damage.

If you are in living storm form while in an area under the effect of the control weather spell or similar magic, you instantly revert to your true form. Once this item's ability has been used once, it cannot be used again until the next dawn.
Cloud Step Oil
Oil, very rare
Crafted by: Cloud Giant Blood x1 vial (Alchemist)
When some of this oil is poured out, it immediately has a reaction to the air around it and magically expands into a semi-solid cloud that is capable of floating while holding weight on top of it. Up to 50 pounds of weight per square foot can be placed on one of these clouds. If more weight than this is placed on it, that section of cloud disappears instantly. Clouds are self-supporting in the air but can also be used to make structures such as bridges using careful placement of the oil. Clouds weigh virtually nothing and can be moved around if external force is applied to them. The clouds last for 1 hour after pouring, after which they disappear. One bottle of this oil is enough to create 500 square feet of clouds.

However, whenever that spell is cast in this way, there is also a 10 per cent chance that a demon will appear in an unoccupied space adjacent to the caster. This demon is chosen by the DM but must be of a Challenge Rating equal to or below the spell level that the triggering spell was cast at. This demon acts on its own initiative and is hostile to all non-demons around it but will prioritize attacking the caster if possible. If that creature has a good alignment, the scales will tip towards the heart.

Helm of Mind Trapping
Wondrous item, very rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Alhoon Brain x1 (Artificer)
While wearing this helm, you may spend your action to force a target humanoid within 30 feet of you that you can see to make a contested Intelligence check against you. If the target succeeds, the ability of this item fails, and they become immune to its effects for 24 hours. If you succeed, you store a copy of their mind inside the helm that possesses the target’s memory and personality at the time of the copy being made. While wearing the helm you may communicate with this copy telepathically and access any of their memories. In addition, you gain any skill and tool proficiencies that target had, however you use your own proficiency bonus. If the target was a spellcaster, you add all of their known spells to your own spell list, so long as you are both on the same plane of existence. A simple command is a general course of action such as “Attack that creature,” “Run over there,” or “Fetch that object.” If the creature completes the order and doesn’t receive further direction from you, it defends and preserves itself to the best of its ability.
You can use your action to take total and precise control of the target. Until the end of your next turn, the creature takes only the actions you choose, and doesn’t do anything that you don’t allow it to do. During this time, you can also cause the creature to use a reaction, but this requires you to use your own reaction as well.
Each time your servant takes damage, it may make a new Wisdom saving throw against this effect, ending it on a success. You may only have one servant at a time. Attempting to make another undead creature your servant instantly causes this effect to end on your old one. An undead that has successfully saved against this ability is immune to this item for the next 24 hours.

Helm of the Cryptkeeper
Wondrous item, rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Spawn of Kyuss Brain x1 (Artificer)
While wearing this helm, you may spend your action to target one undead creature you can see within 30 feet of you that has an Intelligence score of less than 10. That undead creature must succeed on a DC 14 Wisdom saving throw or become your servant for 1 minute. While an undead creature is your servant, you may issue simple commands to them while you are conscious through a telepathic link you share (no action required), so long as you are both on the same plane of existence. A simple command is a general course of action such as “Attack that creature,” “Run over there,” or “Fetch that object.” If the creature completes the order and doesn’t receive further direction from you, it defends and preserves itself to the best of its ability.
You can use your action to take total and precise control of the target. Until the end of your next turn, the creature takes only the actions you choose, and doesn’t do anything that you don’t allow it to do. During this time, you can also cause the creature to use a reaction, but this requires you to use your own reaction as well.
Each time your servant takes damage, it may make a new Wisdom saving throw against this effect, ending it on a success. You may only have one servant at a time. _Wondrous item, rare_
_Crafted by: Yeth Hound Voice Box x1 (Tinker)_

Any creature other than you that can hear this bray must succeed on a DC 13 Wisdom saving throw or be frightened until the end of your next turn. A frightened creature that starts its turn within 30 feet of you must use all of its movement on that turn to get as far from you as possible, must finish the move before taking an action, and must take the most direct route, even if hazards lie that way. A target that successfully saves is immune to the effect of this horn for 24 hours.

Each time you blow this horn, there is a cumulative 5 per cent chance that it will break apart and become useless.

If 5 of these bulbs are grouped together, the light increases again to a bright light in a 30-foot radius, with another 20 feet of dim light beyond that.

A creature that comes within 10 feet of this item for the first time in a turn may mentally command them to not react to their presence until they mentally command them to react to them again.

Ink of Secret Knowledge
_Wondrous item, rare_
_Crafted by: Alhoon Tentacle x1 (Alchemist)_
A character with at least 1 level in the Wizard class may use this ink to re-scribe one of their known spells into their spell book. If they do, they may choose to cast that spell using the power of their mind instead of traditional means. Casting a spell in this way does not require any components, unless it is a material component with an associated cost.

Interrogator’s Web
_Weapon (net), rare_
_Crafted by: Elder Brain White Matter x1 (Leatherworker)_
This large net is composed of the web-like connective tissue of an elder brain. If there is a creature caught in this net, you may spend your action holding onto the net and focusing on that creature. If you do so, you gain one memory or fact from that creature’s mind. The memory or fact may be one that you specifically search for, otherwise you gain a random one chosen by the DM.

This whip can only store one vials worth of blood at a time.

Lenses of Hypnosis
_Wondrous item, rare_
_Crafted by: Morkoth Eye x2 (Artificer)_
While wearing these lenses, you may spend an action to project a 30-foot cone of magical energy. Each creature in that area must make a DC 17 Wisdom saving throw. On a failed save, the creature is charmed by you for 1 minute. While charmed in this way, the target tries to get as close to you as possible, using its actions to Dash until it is within 5 feet of you. A charmed target can repeat the saving throw at the end of each of its turns and whenever it takes damage, ending the effect on itself on a success.

Once this ability has been used once, it cannot be used again until the next dawn.
Lesser Eye Stalk Wand
Wand rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Gauth Eye Stalk x1 (Artificer)

This two-faced mask has been imbued with divine energy siphoned from a cloud giant smiling one mask.

While wearing and attuned to this mask, your illusion spells gain a particular potency. Whenever you cast an illusion spell that creates an image, that image becomes physical and emulates the feel, texture, and weight of the real object it is mimicking; this allows your images to withstand physical inspection. However, if more than 10 pounds of force are applied to your image, it will burst into a thick, cloud-like fog and then quickly dissipate, thus revealing it as an illusion.

Mind Hook, +1
Weapon (war pick or sickle), very rare

While grappling a creature, this whip may not be used to attack another target. Once this ability has been used 4 times in a day, it cannot be used again until the next dawn.

4. Telekinetic Ray: If the target is a creature that is Medium or smaller, it must succeed on a DC 12 Strength saving throw or be moved up to 30 feet directly away from you. If the target is an object weighing 10 pounds or less that isn't being worn or carried, you may move it up to 30 feet in any direction. You can also exert fine control on objects with this ray, such as manipulating a simple tool or opening a container.

Once this item has been used once, it crumbles into dust and is destroyed.

MIRROR OF INSECURITY
Wondrous item, common
Crafted by: Vargouille Jaw x1 (Artificer)
This hand-held mirror has a frame sculpted from the jaw of a vargouille. Any humanoid that looks at themselves in the mirror sees a hideous and demonic version of their own reflection and must make a DC 10 Wisdom saving throw. On a success, a humanoid is immune to the effects of this mirror for 24 hours. On a failure, that humanoid is cursed for 24 hours. While cursed, they fully believe that their demonic reflection is how they now look, despite any physical inspection that would imply otherwise. Whenever they see their own reflection anywhere while cursed in this way, they also see their demonic reflection.

MUTATED EYE STALK WAND
Wand, rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Mindwitness Eye Stalk x1 (Artificer)
This wand has 5 charges. While holding this wand, you may spend an action and 1 charge to shoot a magical ray of energy at a target within 120 feet of you. The type of ray depends on the type of mindwitness eye stalk that the wand was crafted from. Consult the list below to find out what your wand does.

1. Aversion Ray: The targeted creature must make a DC 10 Charisma saving throw. On a failed save, the target has disadvantage on attack rolls for 1 minute. The target can repeat the saving throw at the end of each of its turns, ending the effect on itself on a success.
2. Fear Ray: The targeted creature must succeed on a DC 13 Wisdom saving throw or be frightened for 1 minute. The target can repeat the saving throw at the end of each of its turns, ending the effect on itself on a success.
3. Psychic Ray: The target must succeed on a DC 13 Intelligence saving throw or take 6d8 psychic damage.
4. Slowing Ray: The targeted creature must make a DC 13 Dexterity saving throw. On a failed save, the target's speed is halved for 1 minute. In addition, the creature can't take reactions, and it can take either an action or a bonus action on its turn but not both. The creature can repeat the saving throw at the end of each of its turns, ending the effect on itself on a success.
5. Stunning Ray: The targeted creature must succeed on a DC 13 Constitution saving throw or be stunned for 1 minute. The target can repeat the saving throw at the start of each of its turns, ending the effect on itself on a success.
6. Telekinetic Ray: If the target is a creature, it must make a DC 13 Strength saving throw. On a failed save, you move it up to 30 feet in any direction, and it is restrained by the ray's telekinetic grip until the start of your next turn or until you are incapacitated. If the target is an object weighing 300 pounds or less that isn't being worn or carried, it is telekinetically moved up to 30 feet in any direction. You can also exert fine control on objects with this ray, such as manipulating a simple tool or opening a door or a container.

The wand recovers 1d4 charges at dawn. When you use the last charge of the wand, there is a 10 per cent chance that it crumbles into ashes and is destroyed.

NEGROTIC CLOAK
Wondrous item, very rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Devourer Skin x1 (Leatherworker)
While you wear this cloak, you have advantage on death saving throws and are immune to necrotic damage. In addition, whenever a humanoid within 60 feet of you that you can see dies, you may spend your reaction to gain temporary hit points equal to the amount of hit dice that humanoid had.

PORTABLE MOUTH
Wondrous item, common (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Maw Demon Teeth x1 large bag (Tinker)
This replica of a mouth is lined with long sharp teeth from a maw demon. So long as you are within 60 feet of it, you may spend an action to command the mouth to begin chewing anything that is placed in it. If no food is inside it, it will bite automatically while slowly moving forward at a rate of 5 feet per round until it either bites something edible or runs into an immovable object. Any food that is properly chewed by this mouth dissolves and is teleported inside your own stomach as if you had eaten it yourself. This mouth becomes inanimate if it is ever more than 60 feet away from you.
Potion of Boundless Intellect
Potion, very rare
Crafted by: Elder Brain Fluid x1 vial (Alchemist)
When you drink this potion, your Intelligence score increases to 21 if it was lower than that before, and you gain proficiency in the History, Arcana, Nature, Religion, and Investigation skills if you were not proficient in them before. This effect lasts for 24 hours, after which you suffer 2 levels of exhaustion as your brain attempts to process the mental surge it just experienced. This potion is a dull grey color with chunks of partly solidified matter floating in it.

Potion of Corrupted Strength
Potion, rare
Crafted by: Annis Hag Blood x1 vial (Alchemist)
When you drink this potion, you grow one size larger and your Strength score increases to 21 for 1 hour if it was lower than that before. At the end of this hour you return to your regular size, and your Strength score returns to normal. This potion is a pale red color that swells and ebbs to the rhythm of an invisible heartbeat.

Potion of Digestion
Potion, common
Crafted by: Leucrota Bile x1 vial (Alchemist)
When you drink this potion, for the next 24 hours you become able to digest anything you eat without any negative consequences. Rotten food does not make you ill and swallowed poisons have no effect on you. Food with no nutritional value will still not contribute to your daily food requirements however. This potion is a dark green color with a sludge consistency and a smell of decomposing food.

Potion of Liquid Form
Potion, rare
Crafted by: Slithering Tracker Slime x1 vial (Alchemist)
When you drink this clear potion, you transform into a water-like liquid form for 1 hour. In this form, you gain the following benefits:

- You are able to reshape and manipulate your body into whatever form you wish, so long as your overall volume remains the same.
- You are able to enter an enemy’s space and stop there. You can also move through a space as narrow as 1 inch wide without squeezing.
- While you remain motionless, you are indistinguishable from a puddle, unless an observer succeeds on a DC 18 Intelligence (Investigation) check.
- While underwater, you have advantage on Dexterity (Stealth) checks made to hide, and you can take the Hide action as a bonus action.

Once the hour is over, you return to your normal form. If you return to your normal form in a space that would not support your normal form, you take 4d8 force damage at the start of each of your turns until you are in a space that can support you.

Potion of Poison Immunity
Potion, rare
Crafted by: Yuan-Ti Blood x1 vial (Alchemist)
When you drink this potion, you become immune to poison damage and the poisoned condition for the next 12 hours. This potion is green with small bubbles on the top.

Potion of Vigor
Potion, rare
Crafted by: Ki-Rin Blood x1 vial (Alchemist)
When you drink this potion, you regain 8d4+8 hit points and for the next 24 hours, you have advantage on Constitution saving throws to resist the effects of diseases and poisons. This potion is a bright gold color with constant activity regardless of whether it has been shaken recently or not.
Radiant Oil
Oil, uncommon
Crafted by: Darkling Elder Tattoo x1 (Alchemist)
You may spend 1 minute applying this oil to an item no larger than 1 cubic foot in volume. For the next hour, the oiled item shines bright light out to a range of 15 feet and then dim light for 15 feet beyond that, and any damage dealt using that item may be treated as radiant damage instead of its usual damage type.
Alternatively, you may smash this bottle of oil on a hard surface up to 20 feet away from you. If you do so, the oil violently reacts and creates a blinding flash of light, affecting any creature in a 10-foot radius of it. Any creature in that area must make a DC 11 Constitution saving throw. On a failure, the creature takes 2d6 radiant damage and, if the creature can see the light, is blinded until the end of its next turn. If the saving throw is successful, the creature takes half the damage and isn’t blinded.

Raxivort’s Boon
Wondrous item, uncommon (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Mark of Raxivort x1 (Thaumaturge)
This boon is crafted from the skin of a xvart warlock, stretched over a frame made of twigs and vermin bones. While wearing this boon, you regain 4 temporary hit points whenever you reduce an enemy to 0 hit points.

Reversal Boots
Wondrous item, uncommon
Crafted by: Girallon Foot x2 (Leatherworker)
While your feet are wearing these boots, they become extremely dexterous and flexible similar to that of a gorilla’s. You are able to hold things comfortably in your feet, and you have a climb speed equal to your walking speed.

Shadow Dye
Potion, rare
Crafted by: Liquid Shadow x1 vial (Alchemist)
You may spend your action to pour this dye on yourself. If you do so, you take on a semi-corporeal shadowy form for the next hour. During this time, you gain a vulnerability to radiant damage and resistance to non-magical bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing damage. In addition, so long as you are within dim light or darkness, you may take the Hide action as a bonus action, and you make Dexterity (Stealth) checks at advantage.

Shadow Hunter Bow
Weapon (longbow or shortbow), rare
Crafted by: Yeth Hound Spine x1 (Blacksmith)
This ebony black bow is crafted from the dark spine of a yeth hound, and arrows fired from this bow hunt down their prey like the creature it was crafted from. You have a +1 bonus to attack and damage rolls made with this weapon. Arrows fired from this bow are considered magical and ignore half cover and three-quarters cover.

Shadow Spikes
Wondrous item, uncommon
Crafted by: Shadow Mastiff Teeth x1 small bag (Blacksmith)
As an action, you can spread this bag of caltrops to cover a 5-foot-square area. Any creature that enters the area must succeed on a DC 15 Dexterity saving throw or stop moving and take 1 piercing damage. Until the creature regains at least 1 hit point, its walking speed is reduced by 10 feet. A creature moving through the area at half speed doesn’t need to make the saving throw.
When placed in dim light or darkness, these caltrops become invisible, even to creatures with darkvision. This invisibility lasts until they are exposed to bright light, upon which they return to their normal matte black appearance.

Shield of Reflection, +1
Armor (shield) very rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Morkoth Gladius x1 (Blacksmith)
While wearing this shield, you gain a +1 bonus to your AC. In addition, if you make a successful saving throw against a spell, or a spell attack misses you, you may spend your reaction to choose another creature (including the spellcaster) that you can see within 120 feet of you. The spell targets the chosen creature instead of you. If the spell forced a saving throw, the chosen creature makes its own save. If the spell was an attack, the attack roll is rerolled against the chosen creature.

Silhouette Shawl
Wondrous item, common
Crafted by: Shadow Mastiff Fur x1 small bag (Artificer)
While wearing this shawl, you may spend your action to focus on your shadow. While focusing on your shadow, you may mentally command it to move around on the surface it is cast onto and to take any shape you wish, so long as you do not change its total surface area and the shadow keeps at least one point of contact with you at all times. Your shadow immediately returns to normal if you ever stop focusing on it or if you take off this shawl.

Snap Tongue Attachment
Wondrous item, very rare
Crafted by: Froghemoth Tongue x1 (Tinker)
This attachment takes the form of a 1-inch diameter filament; one end is designed to attach to the handle of a weapon, while the other has a leather hoop designed to be wrapped around a hand. This attachment allows the holder of the leather hoop to exercise an extreme amount of control over their weapon through the filament. A weapon that has had this item attached to it gains the reach property so long as you have the leather hoop in your hand. This item may not be attached to a weapon that has the range, two-handed, or special properties. It takes 1 minute to attach this filament to a weapon and takes 1 action to remove it. Wrapping the leather hoop around your hand requires an action.
Soul Render
Weapon (any piercing or slashing melee weapon), rare
Crafted by: Barghest Fang x2 (Thaumaturge)
When you use this magical weapon to successfully hit a creature that has the incorporeal movement trait, you deal an additional 1d8 damage to them.

Staff of Split Control
Staff, very rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Anathema Spine x1 (Artificer)
This staff has 6 charges, one for each of the white snake heads on its top. While holding this staff, if you target a creature with a spell that would result in them being charmed, you may spend a charge to target an additional creature within 10 feet of the original creature, subjecting them to the same spell. You may spend additional charges to repeat this effect, so long as each additional creature is within 10 feet of another targeted creature.
This staff regains all lost charges at dawn.

Stinger Whip
Weapon (whip), rare
Crafted by: Tlincalli Tail x1 (Tinker)
You gain a +1 bonus to attack and damage rolls made with this weapon. This retrofitted tail has a compartment fitted into where the tlincalli’s poisonous gland would have been, that allows for easier and more efficient uses of poisons.
Any poison applied to this weapon lasts twice as long as it normally does and takes half as long to apply. Furthermore, if a creature must roll a Constitution saving throw due to a poison applied to this weapon, that saving throw is made at disadvantage.

Stone Anvil
Wondrous item, rare
Crafted by: Stone Giant Molar x1 (Artificer)
This large anvil has been crafted partly out of the molar of a stone giant. This anvil is magically enchanted so that sufficiently heated stones that have been placed on it act like heated metal. The stone is able to be shaped in much the same way as heated metal can, and then resumes its original stone properties once removed from the anvil.

Stone Swim Armor
Armor (plate), very rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Korred Hide x1 (Blacksmith)
While wearing and attuned to this armor, you gain the following abilities:
- You have a tremorsense out to 60 ft.
- You have a burrow speed equal to your walking speed.
- You may burrow through nonmagical, unworked earth and stone. You do not disturb the material you move through.
- You have advantage on Dexterity (Stealth) checks made to hide in rocky terrain.

Sun Stream Bow
Weapon (longbow or shortbow), very rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Ki-Rin Fur x7 bolts (Blacksmith)
This bow does not require any physical arrows to be loaded in order to make an attack; instead, whenever its string is drawn back, a Sun Arrow made of solid light is formed in the wielder’s pull hand which dissipates after either 6 seconds, or when it hits a solid object, whichever comes first.
Sun Arrows deal an additional 1d6 radiant damage upon a successful hit and leave a trail of sunlight behind them as they fly through the air. This trail of sunlight illuminates everything in a 5-foot radius around it in bright light and dissipates at the start of the wielder’s next turn. The sunlight created by these arrows is considered equivalent to a 3rd level spell for the purposes of overcoming magical darkness.

Stunning Lens
Wondrous item, rare
Crafted by: Gauth Main Eye x1 (Artificer)
While wearing this item, as an action, you may target a creature you can see within 30 feet of you. If it can see you, that creature must succeed on a DC 14 Wisdom saving throw or become stunned until the start of its next turn. Once this ability has been used once, it can’t be used again until the next dawn.

Swarm Charms
Wondrous item, rare
Crafted by: Swarm Mentality x1 (Artificer)
This set of 4 paper charms on silver chains share an innate connection with each other that allows their wearers to act as if they were one entity. Any willing creature wearing a charm from this set becomes a member of the swarm. Members of the swarm that are on the same plane of existence may communicate with each other telepathically, including the sending of memories and images. In addition, the Intelligence scores of all members of the swarm become equal to that of the member with the highest Intelligence score within 30 feet of them. If a member removes their charm or moves farther than 30 feet away, their Intelligence score returns to normal.
This shared connection comes at a price, however. If a member of the swarm becomes subjected to an effect that would impose a Wisdom or Intelligence saving throw, all members of the swarm become targeted by the same effect, even if they would not otherwise be a valid target.
Telepathic Lens
Wondrous item, rare
Crafted by: Mindwitness Main Eye x1 (Tinker)
This bizarre contraption has a hollowed-out mindwitness eye secured by brass wires to a magically imbued lens about the size of a human’s head. While looking through this lens, you may telepathically communicate simultaneously to as many creatures as you can see within 120 feet of you.

Tormentor’s Cap
Wondrous item, uncommon
Crafted by: Meenlock Head x1 (Artificer)
While wearing this cap, you may spend an action to target a creature you can see within 30 feet of you. If you do so, that creature must make a DC 11 Wisdom saving throw. On a failed save, you learn that creature’s greatest fear, and for the next 24 hours, you have advantage on Charisma (Intimidation) checks made against them. In addition, if they were incapacitated, they also take 3d6 psychic damage. On a successful save, that creature becomes immune to the effects of this item and is made aware of you targeting them. This item has no effect on creatures that are immune to the fear condition.

Wand of the Golden Ray
Wand, very rare (requires attunement by a spellcaster)
Crafted by: Ki-Rin Horn x1 (Artificer)
While holding this wand, you gain a +2 bonus to spell attack rolls. In addition, when you roll a 1 or 2 on a damage dice for a spell that deals radiant damage, you can reroll the die and you must use the new roll.

Whip of Extended Reach
Weapon (whip), rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Morkoth Tentacles x2 (Leatherworker)
You gain a +1 to attack and damage rolls made with this weapon. When you hit a Medium or smaller sized creature with this weapon, you may make a grapple check against them as a free action, using the whip to grapple instead of your free hand. This ability can only be used once per turn. While you have a creature grappled in this way, you may not attack with this whip.

In addition, while holding this 10-foot long weapon, you may spend your action to focus on it and force it to adopt any position or shape you wish, as if it were an extension of your own body. You may spend any subsequent actions to maintain your focus on the whip and either keep it in the same position or move it into a new one. While focusing on the whip, you also are able to feel sensations of touch through the whip. If you attempt to make an attack with the whip, or do not spend an action focusing on it, it falls limp and you no longer are able to feel through the whip.

Withering Lenses
Wondrous item, rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Catoblepas Eye x2 (Artificer)
While wearing these lenses, you may target a creature you can see within 30 feet of you. The target must make a DC 16 Constitution saving throw, suffering 8d8 necrotic damage on a failed save, or half that on a success. If the saving throw fails by 5 or more, the target instead takes 64 necrotic damage. The target dies if reduced to 0 hit points by this ability.

Once used, this ability may not be used again until the next dawn.

Yeenoghu’s Boon
Wondrous item, uncommon (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Shoosuva Heart x1 (Thaumaturge)
If you reduce a creature to 0 hit points with a melee attack on your turn while wearing this charm, you may take a bonus action to move up to half your speed and then make another basic melee weapon attack. Once this ability has been used once, it cannot be used again until you have taken a short rest.

Yeenoghu’s Wrath
Weapon (whip), rare (requires attunement)
Crafted by: Shoosuva Tail x1 (Leatherworker)
You gain a +1 to attack and damage rolls made with this weapon. As a bonus action, you may cause the stinger on the end of this whip to exude a noxious poison. The next creature you successfully hit with this weapon must succeed on a DC 14 Constitution saving throw or become poisoned. While poisoned in this way, the target is also paralyzed. The target can repeat the saving throw at the end of each of its turns, ending the effect on itself on a success. Once used this ability cannot be used again until you reduce a creature to 0 hit points with a melee weapon attack.
Chapter 5: Miscellaneous Additions

Harvesting is a holistic art. It is not simply the physical act of cutting and slicing through a carcass, it is the tools you use, the rules you live by and the skills you have; in short it is an entire lifestyle! Once you have assumed the life of a harvester, you will see the world in a different way, and find the new possibilities and options open to you. However, in the case that you haven’t, I’ve listed them down here for you anyway.” - Hamund

This guide introduces a few new concepts into the base game of Dungeons and Dragons 5th Edition, and as part of that, a few slight alterations and/or additions need to be made to existing concepts and features in the game to accommodate them. While some of these changes are not strictly necessary for this guide to be used, they are advised in order to get the maximum value out of this book.

Special Tools

A few new pieces of adventuring gear have been added in this book to accommodate the act of harvesting. Their functions are described below:

Enchanted Vial

Some creature parts have powerful, yet fleeting, magical energies within them. The motes from elementals for example hold traces of their former essences in them but disperse rapidly upon the destruction of their original form.

An enchanted vial is inlaid with several runes designed to keep any magical resource within from dissipating while the lid is closed and is often the only way of transporting certain parts back to a workshop for crafting.

Items that require an enchanted vial to be harvested are fragile by nature and must be stored inside an enchanted vial quickly to prevent degradation. Any attempt to harvest a material that has an enchanted vial as a requirement must be initiated within 1 minute of the death of its creature.

Hamund’s Harvesting Handbook

“Yes, you can own a copy of this very book in any plane you visit! Due to my travels, I have visited almost every world in the multiverse, dropping manuscripts in publishers’ hands as I go. No matter where you are, or where you come from, this handy book is sure to help you get the most out of whatever your local fauna has to offer.” - Hamund

This book is filled with all sorts of useful information on the creatures that inhabit the multiverse, specifically, which parts of them are useful for harvesting. Using this book grants you advantage on any Appraise ability check.

Harvesting Kit

This kit contains everything the average harvester needs to prepare and harvest a carcass for usable parts including a skinning knife, a bonesaw, 2 glass vials, pouches of salt, and tweezers. Proficiency with this kit lets you add your proficiency to any check made to harvest a creature.

Spirit Paper

Spirit paper is a versatile tool that resembles a square of bleached papyrus. The secrets of its production were only recently discovered, and reverse engineered from secrets brought back from distant necromantic cults. By performing a small ritual with the spirit paper shortly after slaying certain creatures, a copy of that creature’s soul is bound to the spirit paper for later use. These copies are not a true soul and are more akin to an echo. These echoes do retain all of the memories from its original body, and a few crafting techniques utilise these echoes to grant an item a low level of sentience or to mimic the abilities of their incorporeal reflections.

Using spirit paper is often the only way to harvest anything useful from creatures with incorporeal forms. Any harvesting attempt made for a creature part that has spirit paper as a requirement is done using a Wisdom (Religion) check rather than the usual check and is rolled separately for each item. Once a sheet of spirit paper has been used successfully to harvest an item, it cannot be reused, even if the item it contained is released.

Unlike most harvestable materials, materials that require spirit paper to be harvested dissipate very quickly after the death of its creature. Any attempt to harvest a material that has spirit paper as a requirement must be initiated within 1 minute of the death of the creature and takes 10 minutes to successfully complete.

Additions and Changes

The following are a few balance changes to accommodate the harvesting and crafting rules in this guide, as well as a background and feat to incorporate harvesting into your game.

New Proficiency: Harvesting Kit

This guide adds in the new tool: the harvesting kit. Players may have proficiency in this like any other tool, and it is highly advised for them to have it as it provides a valuable bonus when making the checks outlined in this book. In order to accommodate this additional tool, the following classes and backgrounds have been slightly altered to give them the option to gain proficiency in the Harvesting Kit.

- Rangers may have proficiency with the harvesting kit upon character creation (this skill is not gained in multiclassing)
- Druids may have the option to choose between proficiency in the herbalism kit or the harvesting kit upon character creation (this skill is not gained in multiclassing)
New Spells

“Having preferred the hands-on approach, I never had much of an affinity for magic myself. However, one must always endeavour to expand one’s horizons, so I have scoured the planes looking for spells to bolster my (already impressive) skills. The result is the following spells, curated from the minds of the greatest witch-doctors, soothsayers, and magic-men that I have encountered on my travels.” - Hamund

A few new spells have been added to the game. Each one either aids with harvesting, or has harvesting as a core mechanic. In many cases, the spells have uses in both combat and in harvesting, making them especially versatile. Feel free to add any of them to your own game to support your players’ harvesting fantasies.

Cold Storage
4th-level abjuration

Casting Time: 1 action
Range: 60 feet
Components: V, S, M (A small 3-inch by 3-inch wooden box lined with cork)
Duration: Concentration, duration varies
You attempt to send one creature that you can see within range to a freezing cold pocket dimension. If you cast this spell on a living creature, the duration of this spell is 1 minute, and the target must succeed on a Charisma saving throw or be banished to your pocket dimension. While there, the target is incapacitated and suffers 2d6 cold damage at the start of each of its turns and may make a Charisma saving throw at the end of each of its turns. If they succeed, the spell ends, and they reappear in the nearest unoccupied space to you.
If you target a dead creature with this spell, the duration of this spell is infinite. The creature's body experiences no decomposition while it is in your pocket dimension and the cold damage does not affect the condition of the body. When the spell ends, the creature’s body reappears in the nearest unoccupied space to you and then warms back up to the temperature it had before it was banished.
At Higher Levels. When you cast this spell using a spell slot of 5th level or higher, you can target one additional creature for each spell level above 4th.
IDENTIFY VITALS
1st-level enchantment (ritual)

Casting Time: 1 action
Range: 60 feet
Components: V, M (a small crystal lens set in a gold frame worth at least 50 gp)
Duration: Concentration, up to 1 minute

Target a creature within range that you can see. You gain knowledge of any damage vulnerabilities they may have, and for the duration of the spell, your vision is augmented to allow you to see that creature’s internal anatomy, allowing you to strike with greater precision and deadliness. Before the spell ends, you have advantage on attack rolls against that creature, and you can also score a critical hit on that creature with a roll of 19 or 20.

If you target a dead creature with this spell, you also gain the benefits of a successful Appraisal check on that creature. The benefit of this Appraisal check is not lost after the duration of this spell.

At Higher Levels. When you cast this spell using a spell slot of 2nd level or higher, you can target one additional creature for each slot level above 1st. The creatures must be within 60 feet of each other when you target them.

RECOMPOSITION
3rd-level necromancy (ritual)

Casting Time: 1 minute
Range: Touch
Components: V, S, M (A silver needle and thread, and a stick of incense)

Duration: Instant

At the end of the casting time of this spell, you touch a dead creature. That creature’s corpse undergoes a process of reverse decomposition, restoring it to pristine condition, and any injuries it may have had at the time of its death are repaired. This spell however cannot restore missing body parts unless those body parts are held to the corpse at the time of casting this spell, nor does this reset the time limitations that other spells have in raising the dead.

If this spell has been cast on a dead creature that has been subjected to a failed Harvesting check, any unharvested materials become available again and may be subjected to another Harvesting check. A dead creature may only be subjected to this spell once; any subsequent attempts automatically fail.

TRANSFUSION
2nd-level necromancy

Casting Time: 1 action
Range: Touch
Components: V, S

Duration: Instantaneous

Make a melee spell attack against a creature you can reach that has blood in its body. On a hit, the creature takes 14 necrotic damage and you drain a number of vials of blood equal to the amount of necrotic damage dealt, which you may automatically store into an empty vial in your possession. If the number of vials of blood you drained equals or exceeds the target’s drain threshold (based on size as shown in the table below), the target must succeed on a Constitution saving throw or be stunned until the start of your next turn.

<table>

This spell does not change the number of vials of blood you can harvest from that creature’s carcass.

At Higher Levels. When you cast this spell using a spell slot of 3rd level or higher, the damage increases by 1d4 each slot level above 2nd.
Hamund’s Helpers

“Despite the rugged independent aesthetic that I exude, I must assure you that harvesting is not a solitary profession! What we do as harvesters is simply the first step in a long chain of commerce and industry, without which, our work would be meaningless. In my career, I have established a long list of faithful contacts and friends that I refer to as my ‘Helpers.’ Without them, I would merely be a random man slicing animals open in the wilderness! I pass their information on to you, my dear readers, with my reassurance that their services are second to none. All I ask is that if you find them and engage their services, let them know that Hamund sent you.” - Hamund

The following are a list of NPC crafters that a DM can easily slot into any campaign or setting. Feel free to use these NPCs as convenient ways for the party to craft their harvested materials into useful items, vendors to buy spare materials, or even quest givers for certain monster parts.

Craftables Vendor
Name: Whisper
Race: ???
Hamund’s Notes: I have known Whisper for some time now, however I still know very little about her; mostly due to her living up to her name and being almost impossible to hold a proper conversation with. I still do not know what race she is, where she is travelling, or if that is even her true face or simply a mask.

What I do know is that she carries on her back an amazing assortment of magical items, all of them crafted from creatures, and all of them for sale. Where she got all of these items is yet another mystery, as is the fact that her inventory always seems to have the exact item that you are looking for. Now, as enticing as all that would be, I must highly advise those of you with sticky fingers to behave yourselves around her. After all, if those powerful magical items are the ones she’s willing to get rid of, what kind of power do you think she keeps for herself?

Fixer
Name: Alanna Domine
Race: Human
Hamund’s Notes: Alanna has always intimately known the power of words. Born into poverty and growing up amongst pickpockets, Alanna relied more on the speed of her wit than on the speed of her fingers to survive. A rumour here, the right piece of information there, and an intercepted letter or two; these were the blocks upon which Alanna built a fixing and information brokering empire.

Today, Alanna describes her job as being very simple: she gets the right people to talk to each other. In exchange for a small fee, she will get prospective clients in contact with mercenaries willing to do whatever job necessary. For us harvesters, this means a steady supply of work harvesting rare materials for anyone with the coin to pay for it. If you are looking to pick up a little extra spending money, just start asking around for Alanna. She’s sure to pop out of the shadows soon enough, with a laundry list of materials for you to find, and all at a premium rate.
Master Crafter

Name: Orryn Folkor
Race: Gnome
Hamund’s Notes: I have known Orryn since we were children, and I regard him as both one of my closest friends and one of the sharpest minds in existence. I recall Orryn being a particularly sensitive boy, often relying on me to fend off bullies and tormentors for him. Still, he was exceptionally bright, taking a keen interest in all sorts of magic and research. As I honed my harvesting skills, he would hone his crafting skills. He would create something wondrous out of the materials I gave him, and it is thanks to him that I am even aware of half the craftables included in this book. No trade is beyond his talents as a polymath, and he is seemingly able to work with anything you give him.

Today, Orryn wanders much like I do, seeking out new materials to whet his interests and creativity. If you find him, simply mention my name and he is sure to help you with whatever item you wish to craft.

Trapper

Name: Rangrim Holderhek
Race: Dwarf
Hamund’s Notes: Yet another of the Holderhek clan included in my book, this time my nephew: Rangrim. The lad has never been an easy one to work with; due to having a temper fierier than his hair. After countless disagreements and fights with the clan elders, the last straw came when he was forced to choose between the bear cub he found or his place in the clan. For Rangrim, the choice was easy.

He now roams the wilds as a hunter and harvester, always followed by his precious bear partner: Lodinn. While he is not quite on the same level of harvesting skill as his dear old uncle, his brash stubbornness seems to have granted him a better head for business. If you spot him in the open or in town, feel free to approach him and barter for harvesting materials. Rangrim never seems to run out of space in his many bags and pouches, and you will find him to be an honest vendor to offer you coin for your excess stock. Be warned though to never cheat him, or you will find out just how well trained Lodinn really is.

Supplier

Name: Sellek (Translation: Hunter)
Race: Lizardfolk
Hamund’s Notes: Honestly, I am still a little wary around Sellek. It is rare to find a lizardfolk outside of their swamp villages, and even rarer to find one such as Sellek who seems so comfortable, and perhaps even happy, to live among warm blooded humanoids. I can only conclude that Sellek is at least partially crazy, which is saying a lot when it comes to lizardfolk.

Despite that, Sellek is one of the finest hunters I have ever seen, bolstered by the high-quality tools that he designed and made himself. Harvesters come from all around, seeking to buy his superior quality traps, bags, and equipment. If there is anything you need for your harvesting adventures, be sure to seek Sellek out for the finest selection of equipment.

Just try to avoid eye contact with him when you do.
Chapter 6: Hamund's Have-Nots

I have been an adventurer for as long as I have been a harvester. As part of that, I have met a myriad of people from all over the multiverse, many of whom have asked for my help and expertise on whatever problems may plague them. Unfortunately, I am but one person, and do not have the resources to help everyone. Instead, I have done the next best thing: write down their details to outsource these quests to my readers! If you are in the altruistic mood (or just in the need for some extra coin) consider lending someone in here a hand". - Hamund

The following is a list of quests featuring every single monster from the Monster Manual and Volo's Guide to Monsters. The aim is to provide a quick quest or incentive for Dungeon Masters to throw to their players, or to give an extra incentive to hunt down a particular monster.

Understanding the Board

The following is a basic rundown of how to read and use the quest board. The quest board is designed to be used on the fly by Dungeon Masters, and groups are encouraged to adapt these to their own tables.

CR
All quests are separated out by Challenge Rating in ascending order and then in alphabetical order based on the target. Dungeon Masters are encouraged to look up a Challenge Rating appropriate for their party and then to pick a target appropriate for their current environment.

Target
This lists the creature to be hunted in the quest, listed in alphabetical order.

Request
This is the harvesting material being asked for by the quest giver. More often than not, a material with no explicit mechanical use has been chosen for the request. This is so that players do not have to choose between completing a quest, and keeping the material for themselves to use.

Many quests also allow the players to supply the requested material more than once, getting an additional bounty each time.

Requester Name
The name of the quest giver. Feel free to change the names to suit your own game. Also note that some quest givers appear more than once, often asking for similar items or to achieve similar goals. Dungeon Masters are encouraged to use these as NPCs in their own game or adapt them as they need.

Race
The race of the quest giver. Most races chosen are from the Player's Handbook, and especially from the "main" races of Human, Elf, Dwarf, and Halfling. This was in order to make them as adaptable to individual tables as possible. That said, some esoteric races also appear such as Tiefling, Goliath, Tabaxi, etc. If any of these contradict your own games, you are encouraged to adapt them to your own table. All included races appear in either the Player's Handbook or in Volo's Guide to Monsters.

Suggested Locations
The environment that the target is often found in. Use this to help determine if a quest is appropriate, given your party's current location. The possible environments are as follows:

- Arctic
- Cave
- Coast
- Desert
- Forest
- General
- Grassland
- Mountain
- Swamp
- Urban

"General" denotes that the creature can appear in any environment.

Description
A brief explanation of the requirements of the quest, and the motivation of the quest giver in asking for the material. While the "Description" of the quest is designed to be read verbatim by a present NPC, they may also be included as written notices on a job board, or simply used as inspiration for the Dungeon Master to interpret to fit their own campaigns.

Occasionally, the motivation for retrieving a material may be at odds with the personality of the party. In these cases, the Dungeon Master may feel free to either change the motivation, or to incorporate it into their actual campaign. As always, information in this book is intended to be used to support the playstyle of the individual table, and groups are encouraged to adapt it to their own games.

Reward
The bounty given to the players for successfully retrieving the requested material. This amount is usually 1.5x the normal price of the material. The price is given per request delivered. For example, Ander Greenbottle asks for "Blight Seeds x5" and the reward is listed as "1 gold piece." This mean that he will pay 1 gold piece for all 5 Blight Seeds, not one 1 gold piece per Blight Seed.

However, many quests offer the option for the players to submit the request more than once. This is not explicitly stated, but it is implied in the description of the quest. In such cases, the players may receive the same reward each time they hand in the requested material.
Target: Aarakocra
Request: Aarakocra Feathers (small pouch)
Requester Name: Soft-Treading Paw of the Long Cliff clan
Race: Tabaxi
Suggested Locations: Desert, Mountain
Description: “Many times have I bragged to my friend about managing to hunt the largest birds in these known lands. However, he's finally decided to call my bluff and ask for proof; I need to show him something. I have heard of race of bird people known as Aarakocra whose feathers should be big enough to convince him of my prowess. All I need is a few to shove in his face so that I can save mine.”
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Blight (any)
Request: Blight Seed x5
Requester Name: Ander Greenbottle
Race: Halfling
Suggested Locations: Forest, Grassland, Swamp
Description: “I got a need to grow some crops real fast, and the only way I can think of doing that is if I have a little magic fertiliser. A druid friend told me that crushing up some blight seeds and mixing it in with the soil would do the trick, so I’ll take any you can find. I just hope it don’t change the taste of my pumpkins too bad.”
Reward: 1 gp

Target: Boggle
Request: Slippery Boggle Oil (vial)
Requester Name: Quarion Candlebrook
Race: Gnome
Suggested Locations: Forest, Swamp, Urban
Description: “This prank never gets old. Pour some oil outside someone’s room and watch them slip and slide as they try to make their way down the hall. While any oil will do, I am impartial to the oil of a boggle myself. It tends to have a consistency that allows for the furthest slides (and of course, the greatest hilarity)”
Reward: 3 gp

Target: Bullywug
Request: Bullywug Tongue
Requester Name: Lavinia Brushgather
Race: Halfling
Suggested Locations: Swamp
Description: “There's been too many dangnab bullywugs hopping around my hut recently. They're a cowardly bunch, so I bet if I put up a few warnings, they ought to back off. I'd say that nailing the tongues of a couple of their kin to my door oughta do the trick.”
Reward: 2 sp

Target: Chitine
Request: Chitine Blood (vial)
Requester Name: Riskel Firestrider
Race: Elf
Suggested Locations: Cave, Mountain

The blood of these mutants also carry the enzymes necessary for brewing drow poison, which I want to use on the drow themselves.”
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Cockatrice
Request: Cockatrice Beak
Requester Name: Kathra Stoneslope
Race: Dwarf
Suggested Locations: Forest, Grassland
Description: “Of all the illithid experiments out there, the brain of a cranium rat is among the ones I am most excited to study. Most of my samples of illithid experiments come from humanoids like grimlocks and duergar, so you can imagine how interesting it is to see illithid influence on the simple brain of a beast. The way their feral instincts interacts with psionic control is fascinating, and I simply cannot have enough samples. If you can bring them back in one piece, I will gladly pay you for each brain you can find.”
Reward: 3 gp

Target: Cranium Rat

Just take a petrifying dagger to some critters and sell the results. I’m just going to need the beak first.”
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Crawling Claw
Request: Cursed Knucklebones
Requester Name: Shragga Greenfist
Race: Half-Orc
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “There’s a piece of dreck in my mercenary band with a real chip on her shoulder. Seems to think she’s the best fighter to ever walk the Multiverse. I want to take her down a peg or two, and I was thinking making her lose all her money next time she goes gambling would be good. I’ve heard that a set of dice crafted from a handful touched by necromancy can help me out in that regard.”
Reward: 1 gp

Target: Darkling
Request: Darkling Ash (small pouch)
Requester Name: Umbero Falone
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Cave

I’d like a chance to listen to their music, and the only way I can see that happening is if I get some magical assistance. For weeks now, the elites of the city have been sniping at each other; all of them too proud to give an inch of power to another, even if it is for the good of the city! Well no more, for I have come up with a solution. I have heard that the rapport spores of a myconid are capable of increasing empathy among those who breathe them in; perhaps if I spike the meeting chamber with some of them, it'll let our leaders finally see eye to eye. If not, then at least it'll allow them to communicate in a less noisy manner."
Reward: 1 gp

Target: Myconid Adult
Request: Rapport Spores (small pouch)
Requester Name: Syrio Folone
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Cave, Forest, Swamp
Description: "I have had it up to HERE with the bickering and fighting that goes on in the meeting chambers of our city council. For weeks now, the elites of the city have been sniping at each other; all of them too proud to give an inch of power to another, even if it is for the good of the city! Well no more, for I have come up with a solution. I have heard that the rapport spores of a myconid are capable of increasing empathy among those who breathe them in; perhaps if I spike the meeting chamber with some of them, it'll let our leaders finally see eye to eye. If not, then at least it'll allow them to communicate in a less noisy manner."
Reward: 1 gp
Target: Neogi Hatchling
Request: Neogi Amygdala
Requester Name: Birgit Conchobar
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Cave, Desert, Mountain
Description: “The thing that every new commander fails to grasp is the importance of troop morale; how willing are your soldiers to charge into what may very well be their deaths? Morale can make or break a battle, make no mistake about that. As such, I want to make neogi amygdalas a standard inventory item in our supply caravans; I've heard that chewing on that for a while calms a person down and gives them the steady resolve of the uncaring insectoids themselves.”
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Orc
Request: Orc Blood (vial)
Requester Name: Malark Buckman
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “I've made a huge mistake. I was at the tavern last week with the lads, tipping back a few pints of ale. To be honest, the night's a little hazy, but apparently in the middle of it all I had challenged the biggest grognard in town to a duel. Now I'm not much of a fighting man myself, so I will most definitely die in that duel without some outside help. Unfortunately, I'm also a bit strapped for cash, so the only thing I can think of that I can also afford is some orc blood. One sip of that stuff can turn any man into a raging fighting machine...at least for a little while.”
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Orc Nurtured One of Yurtrus
Request: Yurtrus Ichor (vial)
Requester Name: Irina Desilav
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “There is a man that I must kill, a cleric of a dark god. My problem is that whenever I slice him open, he simply heals the damage and runs away. I have heard however of a fiendish poison that is capable of preventing such magical healing. If I had it, I could finally end my target once and for all.”
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Piercer
Request: Piercer Musk (vial)
Requester Name: Lilli Tarkelby
Race: Halfling
Suggested Locations: Cave
Description: “Unbeknownst to many of my customers, the foul-smelling piercer musk is actually a key component in many of my best-selling perfumes. In fact, the perfumes sell so well that I've run low on musk. If you have any, I'll gladly take if off your hands, and even pay a premium if you can remain discreet about it.”
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Pixie
Request: Pixie Dust (small pouch)
Requester Name: Quarion Candlebrook
Race: Gnome
Suggested Locations: Forest
Description: “I've come up with the most whimsical idea for my next party favour: pixie dust! Imagine my guests delight as they open up a pouch and are sprinkled with concentrated magic in powder form, not knowing what wonderful effect they will get. I can see the laughs from the room as they fly around, turn invisible, or shapeshift into animals. Of course, some of them will be restrained by thorny vines or be afflicted by madness, but that's all part of the fun isn't it?”
Reward: 5 gp

Target: Pteranodon
Request: Pteranodon Beak

Request: Rust Monster Dust (large bag)
Requester Name: Quarion Candlebrook
Race: Gnome

Reward: 5 gp

Target: Sahuagin
Request: Sahuagin Blood (vial)
Requester Name: Wolyn Pumanath
Race: Triton
Suggested Locations: Aquatic
Description: “Sahuagin raids have become particularly nasty as of late, and we're going to need to step up our arsenal if we have a chance of beating them back. We have ideas for new poisons or deterrents we could make to fend them off, but we'll need to test them first. If you can bring back some sahuagin blood, we would be in your debt.”
Reward: 1 gp
Target: Satyr
Request: Satyr Hair (small pouch)
Requester Name: [Anonymous]
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Forest
Description: "I can’t let anyone know about this, but I’m actually as bald as a plucked chicken. I’ve been covering it up for years with a variety of wigs, toupees, and hats, but this charade has grown tiresome. I want to do something more proactive about it, and I heard that satyr hair can make a potion for combatting baldness. Get me some, and please don’t tell anyone about this."
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Shadow
Request: Shadow Wisp
Requester Name: Quarion Candlebrook
Race: Gnome
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "I’ve heard that leaving a shadow wisp in someone’s shadow will drain them of their strength. As nefarious as that sounds, I think it would make for a great prank! I want to leave one in my houseguest’s room overnight and see what happens, maybe have them awake up groggier than when they went to sleep? I’m sure they’ll laugh about it afterwards when I tell them what happened."
Reward: 3 gp

Target: Shrieker
Request: Shrieker Spore Colony (vial)
Requester Name: Birgit Conchobar
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Cave, Forest
Description: "My officers have finally taken me up on my suggestion of incorporating shrieker spores into the standard kit of our mages. Such a thing would make sure they don’t have to waste any of their energies on securing camps at the end of the day, but it also means we need to increase our supply of the spores. We’ll take any that you can gather, at a premium too since we need them fast."
Reward: 8 gp

Target: Skeleton
Request: Bone Dust (small pouch)
Requester Name: Lawrence Ichelm
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "Nothing like some good bone dust for doing your necromancy; and boy do I do a lot of necromancy. So much necromancy in fact that some people have the audacity to accuse me of being a lich in disguise. I have to vehemently deny that accusation and state that I merely have a skin condition that makes it look like I have no skin...or flesh."
Reward: 1 sp

Target: Slaad Tadpole
Request: Slaad Slime (vial)
Requester Name: Rhogar of the Fenkenkabradon clan
Race: Dragonborn
Suggested Locations: Cave, Swamp
Description: "Although it is a relatively rare occurrence, being infested with a slaad egg is a horrible affliction that I would not wish on anyone. The problem is that some of our warriors can engage in a fight with a slaad and not realise they’ve been infected until it is far too late. To remedy this, I want to invent a vaccine against these infections, and to do this, I need to study slaad biology a little more closely. Slaad slime would be a good start since they use it to protect their bodies; perhaps some reverse engineering can make a potion that causes the imbiber to produce antigens that kill eggs as soon as they’re implanted."
Reward: 1 gp

Target: Sprite
Request: Sprite Dust (small pouch)
Requester Name: Romero Domine
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Forest
Description: "I feel there’s this gulf between my husband and I lately. There’s just some barrier in communication I can’t seem to broach; like he’s not telling me how he feels. I want to understand him better so I was thinking I could use some sprite dust next time so I could understand his emotions and figure out what’s troubling him."
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Stirge
Request: Stirge Needle
Requester Name: Shava Siannodel
Race: Elf
Suggested Locations: Cave, Forest
Description: "I serve as the healer of the local village and my supplies have run quite low lately. I don’t even have the basics like needles for administering tinctures. Stirge needles are a good substitute, and I will gladly pay out of my own pocket for some supplies."
Reward: 5 sp

Target: Troglodyte
Request: Troglodyte Hide
Requester Name: Gardain Glanhig
Race: Dwarf
Suggested Locations: Cave, Mountain

If I had some of those for noisemakers, I know our troupe will have the spookiest performance in the whole land.”

Requester Name: Lawrence Ichelm
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “I must acknowledge that there are those who think I am a lich, merely because of my skin condition that makes it seem I have no skin, and my muscle condition that makes it look like I have no flesh. I assure you that I am very much a normal human. That said, I would like you to find some zombie juice for me. I swear it’s not for any necromantic or lichy behaviour, it’s for my...skin condition. Yes, that will do.”

Requester Name: Orsik Holderhek
Race: Dwarf
Suggested Locations: Cave, Desert, Mountain

Target: Maw Demon
Request: Maw Demon Teeth (large bag)
Requester Name: Perrin Porridgepot
Race: Halfling
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “My entire life has been turned upside down. The other day, I saw a friend of mine whip out a set of fake teeth that chattered on their own. We all had a quick laugh at first, but that turned to awe as the teeth began to actually devour a sausage that he had placed in front of it. Not only that, but he could taste it as well, and the food actually ended up in his real stomach! Imagine how fast I could eat with a set of those teeth! I could lay claim to half the dinner spread by myself! I need to make those teeth for myself, even if it does come with the risk of a fiendish curse.”

Target: Scarecrow
Request: Evil Spirit
Requester Name: Elias Silverbrook
Race: Elf
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “I despise the so-called ‘scarecrows’ made by hags and lesser wizards. It’s such a waste of spiritual energy to make such a weak servant. However, the only reason the scarecrow is so weak is because these people have no idea what they’re doing when it comes to construct creation. I am going to prove to them you can make something much more dangerous with the spirits they have.”
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Sea Spawn
Request: Sea Spawn Blood (vial)
Requester Name: Birgit Conchobar
Race: Human

Requester Name: Barakas
Race: Tiefling
Suggested Locations: Desert

Requester Name: Quarion Candlebrook
Race: Halfling
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “So I’ve heard of something called the ‘mirror of insecurity’ and it was easily one of the most hilarious things I’ve ever heard of. I can imagine using it right now on some of my snootier house guests; listen to them shriek as they think they’ve received some horrible curse, when in reality, they’ve just been hit by a relatively benign curse. I want to make this mirror immediately: I just need a vargouille jaw to do it.”

Well no more, for I have come up with a solution. I have heard that the rapport spores of a myconid are capable of increasing empathy among those who breathe them in; perhaps if I spike the meeting chamber with some of them, it'll let our leaders finally see eye to eye. I’ve heard that dark dogs called “shadow mastiffs” have a drool that you can make a pretty interesting drink out of. Request: Lycanthrope Blood (vial)
Requester Name: Shevarra Dyenina
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “Lycanthropy is a terrible affliction, and those who are cursed by it should be cared for, not cast out. I run a home that any lycan is free to come to and stay while they turn their lives around. To help them, I brew up copious amounts of moon muzzle mixture, but supply is always limited since the blood required to make it must be donated by an already deceased lycan. If you are ever forced to kill one, please bring me their blood so that their death may help save the life of another.”

Description: “I serve my local village as healer, which unfortunately sometimes involves helping the critically ill pass into death. I try to do it as painlessly as possible, and I’ve found that the energy produced by will-o-wisps produce the best results. Sprinkling their energy over a dying person will kill them painlessly, instantly, and with no mark left on their corpse. As macabre as it may sound, I would like to stock up on these motes of necrotic energy for those...less enjoyable moments of my job.”

How about we use the blood of their creations to wreak havoc on the drow themselves?"

Suggested Locations: Cave, Desert
Description: "The people of my village are counting on me as healer, but I am desperately low on medical supplies. I’ll take just about anything and pay for it out of my own pocket if it will keep the people of the village in good health. Mummy bandages would be of a great help, the precious oils in them can be extracted and diluted quite a lot to make treatments for all sorts of ailments."
Reward: 15 gp

Target: Neogi
Request: Neogi Amygdala
Requester Name: Birgit Conchobar
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Cave, Desert, Mountain
Description: "The thing that every new commander fails to grasp is the importance of troop morale; how willing are your soldiers to charge into what may very well be their deaths? Morale can make or break a battle, make no mistake about that. As such, I want to make neogi amygdalas a standard inventory item in our supply caravans; I’ve heard that chewing on that for a while calms a person down and gives them the steely resolve of the uncaring neogi themselves."
Reward: 2 gp

Target: Nightmare
Request: Nightmare Hoof x4
Requester Name: Despair
Race: Tiefling
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "All my life they have called me demonspawn, based solely on my looks. Well, if that’s what they think of me, then I may as well live up to their expectations before I leave them behind for good. I think riding a nightmare out of town seems fitting, don’t you? All I need to summon one is hooves of a defeated one, I can take care of the rest on my own."
Reward: 48 gp

Target: Orc Red Fang of Shargaas
Request: Shargaas-Touched Heart
Requester Name: Sillaron Orcsbane
Race: Elf
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "As my name would suggest, I am descended from a long line of orc hunters. It is a tradition in my family to venture out into the world and destroy orcs wherever we find them, taking their hearts back in triumph to our ancestral home. I, however, have not done so well in this regard. While I have cut through quite a few orcs, I have yet to find any special ones; those touched by the orcish pantheon. If I could bring a few of those home, even if they were not from my kills, I would be able to return with no small amount of glory."
Reward: 8 gp

Target: Owlbear
Request: Owlbear Feathers (large bag)
Requester Name: Penelope Evenwood
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Cave, Forest
Description: "I want to make a present for mommey. She used to be an adventurer you know, so I thought I could make a dolly for her of the monsters she used to hunt. She’s really proud of the owlbear head we have mounted in our living room, so maybe I could make one of that? I’ll need some materials to make it look good, but I’ve been saving up my pocket money so I can pay you for it!"

Target: Redcap
Request: Redcap Boots
Requester Name: Pog Miggledy
Race: Gnome
Suggested Locations: Forest
Description: "If there’s one thing I hate about my town it’s just how WINDY it is! The zephyrs coming down main street are strong enough to knock over a bull, let alone a little gnome such as myself. I need something that’ll help me stand my ground; I’ve heard that the boots of a redcap can do just that. Get me a pair, would you? I’d pay a good price if it meant being able to walk down the street without falling over."
Reward: 14 gp

Target: Slithering Tracker
Request: Slithering Tracker Slime (vial)
Requester Name: Umberto Falone
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "I am the employer of people that partake in… night-time activities. As part of that, it would definitely make their lives easier if they had some way of slipping through small spaces and cracks. I know a guy that can make a pretty sneaky potion out of the slime of a slithering tracker, all he needs is the materials. If you bring me some, I’ll pay you well, especially if you can be...discreet about it."
Reward: 15 gp

Target: Spectator
Request: Spectator Main Eye
Requester Name: Ulfgar Strakeln
Race: Dwarf
Suggested Locations: Cave, Urban
Description: "There’s a wizard in my adventuring band that is being a real knot in my beard. The damn boy has an obnoxious habit of using his magic to play pranks on us: yesterday, he turned poor Corrin into a squirrel for no reason! I want to forge a Shield of Reflection to take him down a notch. I’d happily pay all of my adventuring gold just to see his face when his next spell goes flying back at him."
Reward: 90 gp
Target: Trapper
Request: Trapper Hide
Requester Name: Umbero Falone
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Cave, Urban
Description: "I am the employer of some people that partake in a lot of... night-time activities. I'm always looking for ways to make sure that they stay out of trouble, and one of the best ways is to make sure they aren't even seen. It would be extremely expensive for me to commission a bunch of invisibility items (certainly much more than my employees are worth) so I'll have to go with some camouflage instead. The hide of a trapper would be good, and I'll even pay a premium if you can get it to me... discreetly."

Reward: 135 gp

Target: Water Weird
Request: Mote of Water
Requester Name: Lidda Littlelid
Race: Halfling
Suggested Locations: Cave, Coast
Description: "I'm interested in the properties of elementals and how they can be used in changing the nature of some of my potions. To that end, I need some samples of them to do some research. I'd go out and find some myself, but I've started a potion that needs to be on the boil for several months and I need to keep my eye on it. I'd happily pay a premium if you could go out and get me what I need."

Reward: 150 gp

Target: Werewolf
Request: Lycanthrope Blood (vial)
Requester Name: Shevarra Dyenina
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "Lycanthropy is a terrible affliction; and those who are cursed by it should be cared for, not cast out. I run a home that any lycan is free to come to and stay while they turn their lives around. To help them, I brew up copious amounts of moon muzzle mixture, but supply is always limited since the blood required to make it must be donated by an already deceased lycan. If you are ever forced to kill one, please bring me their blood so that their death may help save the life of another."

Reward: 15 gp

Target: Wight
Request: Wight Blood (vial)
Requester Name: Kethra Hornraven
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Cave, Forest, Swamp
Description: "I may sound unconventional, but I've realised that wight blood makes for a great reconnaissance tool. Drinking one lets you see creatures even in pitch blackness and through cover, so I want to add it to our scouts' kits. We're going to need some more of course, and wights aren't all that easy to find, but we'll pay a decent price for them."

Reward: 8 gp

Target: Yeti
Request: Yeti Tongue
Requester Name: Vimak Threadtwister Gathakanathi
Race: Goliath
Suggested Locations: Arctic, Mountain
Description: "The tongue of a yeti has deep significance for our people. They warn us of danger and blizzards, and we have had some of our oldest tongues for generations. I am not asking you to go hunt the yetis that live in the mountains, but if you find any, we will gladly buy any tongues from you."

Reward: 15 gp

Target: Yuan-ti Malison
Request: Yuan-ti Blood (vial)
Requester Name: Lidda Littlelid
Race: Halfling
Suggested Locations: Swamp
Description: "One of my basic services is to make a potion for adventurers that will protect them from the various poisons out there in the world. Unfortunately, I've gotten so many orders recently that I'm having trouble keeping up with demand. While there are a lot of different bases that can be used to craft the potion, one of the more common ones is yuan-ti blood. If you get me some, I'll gladly pay you a decent price for it."

Reward: 3 gp

Target: Babau
Request: Babau Eye x2
Requester Name: Kansif
Race: Half-Orc
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "I own a gladiatorial ring, a place where tough folk can come to beat each other up. Problem is, there's this one fighter that's been dominating the competition lately; it's made the shows a little boring to be honest. What I want to do is put a handicap on him. He's already agreed to it, we just need something that can do it without restraining him too hard. I think a minor curse should help out, something to sap his strength without making him look too weak. I've got a tiefling buddy that can whip up something like that, they say they just need a couple of eyes from some demon. Do that for me, and you're in for a good reward AND front row tickets."

Reward: 30 gp

Target: Banshee
Request: Banshee Echo
Requester Name: Crassus Rezalor
Race: Tiefling
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "I feel that traditional music and songs have grown stale. I've started experimenting with some pretty out-there sounds, so I really just want anything you can get me that feels different to everything else, and as far as I can tell, no one has incorporated a banshee into their repertoire yet."

Reward: 20 gp
Target: Barghest
Request: Barghest Stomach Acid (vial)
Requester Name: Calienta Ostoroth
Race: Elf
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “There is a man that I need to destroy: a bad man that has done bad things. His crimes against my family and I…well…they do not bear repeating. I do not seek something to help me kill him, I can already handle that part myself. What I need is something to destroy him. I need to ensure that when he is dead, he stays dead; to ensure that after I drive my knife through his black heart, his spiteful soul does not rise from the corpse to continue its sins. As evil as my request may be, I need the stomach acid of a barghest. Pouring that on his corpse will destroy him body and soul, and finally pay my family’s debt.”
Reward: 90 gp

Target: Black Pudding
Request: Black Residue (vial)
Requester Name: Bruenor Toilhands
Race: Dwarf
Suggested Locations: Cave, Mountain, Urban
Description: “Here’s what my dear ‘pa used to say: ‘you don’t need to work a shovel if you know how to pour a vial.’ That’s because his tool of choice was concentrated acid to eat through layers of stone and dirt like they were made of sugar. The best source of it comes from oozes, they’re plentiful, potent, and if you leave it long enough it starts to reproduce itself. That said, I’ll take any samples you have, I’ve always got more projects than I have materials for.”
Reward: 30 gp

Target: Bone Naga
Request: Naga Bone
Requester Name: Five Timber of the Distant Rain clan
Race: Tabaxi
Suggested Locations: Cave, Swamp
Description: “While trekking through the far jungles, I was offered a tea by a local hermit. When I drank it, I experienced visions and histories that few living can attest to. When I woke, the hermit was gone, but I yearned for that feeling again. It has taken me a few years to figure it out, but I believe what I had was a tea brewed from the bones of a naga. I will pay a good price if you can bring me some, so I may feel the weight of history meld with my mind once again.”
Reward: 30 gp

Target: Chuul
Request: Arcana Ganglia
Requester Name: Helja Loderr
Race: Dwarf

Description: “The wizard in our adventuring party died recently (damn fool forgot to check if the chest was a mimic). So, until we get a new one, we’re going to need something else to find magical items and treasure when we go dungeon delving. We’d get it ourselves, but we’re a little busy with funeral arrangements for our wizard (or what’s left of him anyway).”

Request: Couatl Feathers (large bag)
Requester Name: Gordan Darkbag
Race: Halfling
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “Insomnia runs in my family, it’s sorta how we got our name. It’s been years since I’ve been able to get a good night’s rest and frankly, I’m at my wits end. Requester Name: Anders Dagon
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Cave, Urban
Description: “I’m at the end of my apprenticeship but I’m lacking a spell or two to complete my spellbook. I was procrastinating a little before and ended up looking up magical inks and stumbled upon flameskull ashes. If I can get some, I should be able to just fill in the gaps of my spellbook with some old spells that a flameskull had before, which would allow me to pass my apprenticeship!”
Reward: 30 gp

Target: Ghost
Request: Ectoplasmic Trail (vial)
Requester Name: Alston Turen
Race: Gnome
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “Let’s be honest, of all the dangerous issues in the world, the undead are probably the most pressing. That is why I try to study them whenever I can, to learn them and their weaknesses, and hopefully, a way to defeat them. To that end, I need study samples; a ghost’s ectoplasmic trail should be a good start.”
Reward: 22 gp

Target: Girallon
Request: Girallon Foot x2
Requester Name: Umberto Falone
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Forest, Urban
Description: “I employ a number of people who partake in some…night-time activities. During these…night-time activities, they usually have to do a lot of climbing, so much so that they tend to joke they’re half monkey. Well that got me thinking, what if I could actually make them half monkey it would certainly make their jobs a lot easier. I found an artificer that can make a pair of boots to do just that, they say they just need some girallon feet to do it.”

Suggested Locations: Desert
Description: “I enjoy stories of the lamia, the way they draw in their prey using their charms and appearance. Target: Orc War Chief
Request: Orc Blood (vial)
Requester Name: Malark Buckman
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “I’ve made a huge mistake. I was at the tavern last week with the lads, tipping back a few pints of ale. To be honest, the night’s a little hazy, but apparently in the middle of it all I had challenged the biggest grognard in town to a duel. Now I’m not much of a fighting man myself, so I will most definitely die in that duel without some outside help. Unfortunately, I’m also a bit strapped for cash, so the only thing I can think of that I can also afford is some orc blood. One sip of that stuff can turn any man into a raging fighting machine...at least for a little while.”

Target: Shadow Demon
Request: Demonic Imprint
Requester Name: Gideon Radovan
Race: Scourge Aasimar

Description: “I was raised to destroy demons, devils, and fiends wherever I find them. It is my purpose in life and it is what pushes me forward. I have found however, that I still need more power to achieve this goal. A thought has struck me, why not use the power of the demons themselves against them? With the right enchantments, a captured essence of shadow demon can be used to destroy the forces of evil: a fitting punishment for them, no?”

Target: Succubus/Incubus
Request: Succubus/Incubus Tail
Requester Name: Makaria
Race: Tiefling
Suggested Locations: General
Description: I have gotten tired of the usual methods for keeping prisoners in line. The constant whipping and manacles take their toll on their health and on my time. I've been thinking of getting a succubus tail to make a chain of command. With that, I can keep my prisoners in line with just a single lash a day. It's the much more humane (and time-efficient) method.

Request: Yeth Hound Voice Box
Requester Name: Cockaby Pilwicken
Race: Gnome
Suggested Locations: General
Description: I'm generally a pretty peaceful person, even if the people that keep raiding my farm are not. What I need is something that can repel intruders without harming them. Some tinker told me they could make some magical fear-inducing whatchamajigger if I just bring them a yeth hound voice box. It sounds like a good idea, but I wouldn't know the first thing about getting the voice box; do you think you could help me out?

Requester Name: Kallista Nolioski
Race: Tiefling

Request: Manual Ashes (small pouch)
Requester Name: Jarrod Gerkirk
Race: Gnome

Reward: 210 gp

Target: Gorgon
Request: Gorgon Plate
Requester Name: Darrak Fireforge
Race: Dwarf
Suggested Locations: Mountain
Description: “I’m pretty damn screwed. My sister’s got a great project practically finished and ready to show the elders, meanwhile I haven't even started. I’m going to need something good and fast in order to catch up, so I was thinking of making something out of gorgon plate. After all, most of the work is done already when it comes to making armour from it, the hard part is just getting some.”

Reward: 45 gp

Target: Mezzoloth
Request: Yugoloth Heart
Requester Name: Borivik Helder
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General
Description: “In several ways, yugoloths are worse than regular fiends. While fiends fight merely for their bloodthirstiness or their vanity, yugoloths do so purely out of greed. I have made it my goal to end them once and for all, and to do that, I will need access to Gehenna. If you can get me yugoloth hearts, I can craft them into gems that will take my companions and I into that dark realm, to confront the legendary yugoloth general and destroy him.”
Reward: 1,125 gp

Target: Mindwitness
Request: Mindwitness Main Eye
Requester Name: Barakas
Race: Tiefling
Suggested Locations: Cave
Description: “The influence that illithids have over other creatures is fascinating to me. Even the infamous beholder is no match for their corruption, with their ubiquitous main eyes mutating into mere extensions of their brains (and an elder brain’s will). I want to study these eyes to discover the psionic potential inside, maybe it will help me understand the psionics of the illithids themselves better in the process.”
Reward: 105 gp

Target: Night Hag
Request: Hag Eyeball
Requester Name: Shanairra Liadon
Race: Elf
Suggested Locations: Forest, Swamp
Description: “The threat posed by hags has gone on for far too long. I am studying a way to put an end to their vile race once and for all, and I believe that the key lies in their infamous eyes. With the way they are connected to them, I believe they may be used as a method to find, hunt, and destroy them easily. I will need more samples to experiment with first though.”
Reward: 75 gp
Target: Otyugh
Request: Otyugh Bile (vial)
Requester Name: Shava Siannodel
Race: Elf
Suggested Locations: Cave, Urban
Description: "Despite its horrid smell and taste, otyugh bile is a wonderful remedy for all sorts of digestive ailments. With my supplies running so low, I'd be happy to get my hands on any sort of medical supplies, even if they are rather unpleasant to use."
Reward: 8 gp

Target: Red Slaad
Request: Slaad Slime (vial)
Requester Name: Rhogar of the Fenkenkabradon clan
Race: Dragonborn
Suggested Locations: Cave, Swamp
Description: "Although it is a relatively rare occurrence, being infested with a slaad egg is a horrible affliction that I would not wish on anyone. The problem is that some of our warriors can engage in a fight with a slaad and not realise they've been infected until it is far too late. To remedy this, I want to invent a vaccine against these infections, and to do this, I need to study slaad biology a little more closely. Slaad slime would be a good start since they use it to protect their bodies; perhaps some reverse engineering can make a potion that causes the imbiber to produce antigens that kill eggs as soon as they're implanted."
Reward: 1 gp

Target: Revenant
Request: Imprint of Vengeance
Requester Name: Morthos
Race: Tiefling
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "Revenants are pitiful creatures. Born of pure vengeance, their emotions can persist even after their bodies are destroyed. I want to find a better way to help them find peace than to indulge their bloodlust, but to do that, I need to find out what really makes them function. Samples of their essence in spirit paper would be a good place to start."

Requester Name: Barakas
Race: Tiefling
Suggested Locations: Cave, Urban
Description: “Of all the illithid experiments out there, the brain of a cranium rat is the one I am most excited to study. Most of my samples of illithid experiments come from humanoids like grimlocks and duergar, so you can imagine how interesting it is to see illithid influence on the simple brain of a beast. The way their feral instincts interacts with psionic control is fascinating, and I simply cannot have enough samples. If you can bring them back in one piece, I will gladly pay you for each brain you can find.”

Request: Tlincalli Leg
Requester Name: Khemet Hekaib
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Desert
Description: “What many people don’t appreciate is just how useful tlincalli legs are for tools in a desert lifestyle. They don’t break down from exposure to sand, hold up well in the heat, and are hardy enough to be dropped from even the highest canyons. You can make just about anything from them if you try hard enough, which is why I can never get enough of them. If you kill some tlincalli out there (which by itself you should be getting paid for to be honest), bring me their legs and I’ll give you a good price.”

Request: Umber Hulk Guts
Requester Name: Dimble Beren
Race: Gnome
Suggested Locations: Cave

Request: Lycanthrope Blood (vial)
Requester Name: Shevarra Dyenina
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General

I run a home that any lycan is free to come to and stay while they turn their lives around. To help them, I brew up copious amounts of moon muzzle mixture, but supply is always limited since the blood required to make it must be donated by an already deceased lycan. Target: Wood Woad
Request: Wood Woad Seed

The soaring trees and bountiful flowers are beautiful enough to attract starry-eyed visitors...and jealous vandals. I need something to protect my work, and thankfully, I overheard a passing adventurer speak of a wood woad in the nearby forest that I'm sure wouldn't mind 'donating' his seed to place a protective enchantment over my garden. It's for the greater good, I assure you."
Reward: 375 gp

Target: Wraith
Request: Wraith Energy
Requester Name: Lawrence Ichelm
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: General

Request: Bodak Eye x2
Requester Name: Theodoric Eventur
Race: Human
Suggested Locations: Cave, Swamp
Description: "As a judge, it is my duty to determine the guilt of the criminals that come before me and sentence them accordingly. Of course, even with magic this can be difficult; some criminals are crafty enough to talk their way through a zone of truth spell. I want something a bit stronger, something powered by…something stronger. The eyes of a bodak can see into one's soul and find the darkness that lives there. If I had those, I would be able to judge a man without a doubt, and justice would always be served"

One of the first monsters that I killed was a chimera, but in my excitement, I had neglected to take a trophy. My slaying days may be far behind me, but I would love for a small reminder of them, and finally getting that trophy would fill me with no small amount of satisfaction."
Reward: 325 gp

Target: Cyclops
Request: Cyclops Heart
Requester Name: Krusk Giantsbane
Race: Half-Orc
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "You wouldn’t be able to tell now, but in his prime years, my father was the greatest giant hunter in our clan. He could break a giant’s neck with one swing of his mighty fist and send them scurrying with his terrible roar. Reward: 40 gp

Target: Drider
Request: Drider Oil (vial)

Some drider oil ought to keep us safe in the worst parts of it though, so I’d like to stock up before we head out."

Requester Name: Riardon Dalanthan

Requester Name: Nybarg Swiftand
Race: Half-Orc

Suggested Locations: Cave, Urban
Description: I'm a bounty hunter by trade. I enjoy it quite a bit, but problem is that I'm having trouble bringing my targets in alive. It’s not because I brutalise them or anything, it’s just that they always run, and it’s hard enough to aim at a moving target, let alone aim for anything non-vital. If I get something that can help me slow them down or stop them completely then I’d gladly pay for that. The bonus I’d get in live bounty rewards would easily make up for what I pay.

Target: Blue Slaad
Request: Slaad Slime (vial)
Requester Name: Rhogar of the Fenkenkabradon clan
Race: Dragonborn
Suggested Locations: Cave, Swamp
Description: “Although it is a relatively rare occurrence, being infested with a slaad egg is a horrible affliction that I would not wish on anyone. The problem is that some of our warriors can engage in a fight with a slaad and not realise they’ve been infected until it is far too late. To remedy this, I want to invent a vaccine against these infections, and to do this, I need to study slaad biology a little more closely. Slaad slime would be a good start since they use it to protect their bodies; perhaps some reverse engineering can make a potion that causes the imbiber to produce antigens that kill eggs as soon as they’re implanted.”
Reward: 1 gp

Target: Draegloth
Request: Draegloth Claw
Requester Name: Xanaris Aleaneal
Race: Elf (Drow)
Suggested Locations: Cave
Description: “I do not have any shame in saying this: I have been exiled from my home. The reason I am so calm about this, is because I know that soon I will have my revenge. I was exiled for a crime that I did not commit, and I fully intend on destroying those that were complicit in my downfall. But of course, revenge is nothing without a little theatrics, and in my culture, sending a draegloth claw to one’s enemies is a grave sign of warning. I have admittedly had some trouble in finding a draegloth however, so if you can bring me any uncut korred scalps you find, I’ll pay you well for it.”

Target: Korred
Request: Korred Scalp
Requester Name: Lorilla Nackle
Race: Gnome
Suggested Locations: Cave, Forest, Grassland, Mountain
Description: “I’ve been commissioned by a wealthy patron with a big purse. She wants something elegant to wear, but she’s also got a paranoid side, so she wants it to be a functional set of armour as well (I guess in case she gets attacked at one of her fancy balls). Anyway, the only way I see this working is if I can find “threads” of metal, and the only way I can figure out how to do that is by using the hairs of a korred. I’ll need a lot of it, so if you can bring me any uncut korred scalps you find, I’ll pay you well for it.”
Reward: 250 gp

Target: Mind Flayer

I was thinking of investing in a good solid shield guardian, but it is next to impossible to find a golem-crafter with an open commission spot. Instead, I’ll have to turn to the next best thing: a mercenary outfitted with the armour of the guardian. If you manage to destroy someone else’s shield guardian, make sure to bring me its breastplate so I can outfit my bodyguard with what they need to protect my life.”

Requester Name: Eberk Steelfist
Race: Dwarf
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "I've started working with a particular sample of iron that can only be forged in extremely high temperatures. Having some of that would make a big difference in my ability to help the town."
Reward: 10 gp

Target: Shoosuva
Request: Shoosuva Fur (small pouch)
Requester Name: Fildo Hogcollar
Race: Halfling
Suggested Locations: General
Description: "So there's this underground fighting pit nearby, and to be honest, I really don't like them. Now don't get me wrong, I enjoy seeing a good fight as much as the next guy, but these aren't exactly what you would call "good fights." Most of them are pitting a full-grown man against some starved and scared wolf that wouldn't be able to put up a good fight if its life depended on it...which unfortunately it does. There's not really much I can do to save them from their terrible fates, but what I can do is make sure they get a little justice for themselves before they face them. I want to keep a little shoosuva fur on me when I go watch the fights, a whiff of that will turn even the most timid animals into a rabid monster that'll tear the throat out of the next jerk that steps into the ring with them (and if I happen to make a little money betting on the underdog, then where's the harm in that?)"

Description: “I serve a very powerful lord with a strong sense of paranoia. As his apothecarist, I am responsible for amassing powders, mixtures, and tinctures to ensure his safety in any situation and it has recently come to my attention that the blighted ash of a death knight is capable of protecting an individual from the undead. As such, my lord has directed me to procure some for him in the off-chance that his castle ever randomly comes under attack by a zombie horde.”

Fetch me what I desire, and you shall be handsomely rewarded.”

FAQs

Q: Why didn't you include the meat you can harvest from creatures?
A: I wanted to avoid relatively generic harvesting materials. Largely I assumed that DM's would be able to judge meat harvesting by themselves without any need for a guide.

Q: Can I give suggestions or feedback?
A: Of course! This is a living document and I fully endorse anyone to send in item suggestions or balance feedback. See the Contact Us section for contact details.

Q: Can I change an item to suit my campaign?
A: Feel free to do so. Items were designed to be setting agnostic and able to fit into anything, but edge cases could always occur. I encourage DMs to use this guide as a launching point for their own ideas.

Q: Will you be making a follow-up for Mordenkainen's Tome of Foes?
A: Yes I am. Follow @drifterworkshop on Twitter for regular updates.

Q: How do your rules fit in with the newly released Artificer class on Unearthed Arcana?
A: To be honest, they do not. The updated Artificer class was released very late into the development of this guide and as such, this guide does not incorporate them at all. A future update may attempt to reconcile them.

Q: Why don't you include the beast section?
A: I felt that beasts were too mundane to include in the harvest table, and largely could be replaced by a DM googling an actual butcher table.

Q: How come you didn't include any loot like weapons and armour?
A: Those items are largely context sensitive. After all, not every Hobgoblin walks around with a spear at all times, so I felt best to leave those out and up to the DM to decide based on context.
