The winter solstice. REVELLESCHAFTE'S presents have been stolen by goblins from the abandoned mine. Can the PCs recover the gifts?

Goblin Poison

2. Rotting Aura. All foodstuffs within 10' of you spoil.
3. Wild Water. All liquids you drink are intoxicating.
4. Reddish Paling. You become as red as a tomato.
8. Awful Smell. You reek of fish and garbage.
9. Terrifying Hunger. You must eat your weight in food each day.
11. I feel fine!

The Abandoned Mine

1. Mine Entrance
   - DC 12 Wisdom (Perception) reveals goblin tracks. DC 17 to see murder holes from Area 4.

2. East Hallway
   - Festooned with festive decorations. Two pit traps. DC 16 Wisdom (Perception) or fail for 3d6 piercing damage and contract goblin poison.

3. Grub Pits
   - Maggot infested pits. DC 18 Intelligence (Investigation) to find sword of life stealing lodged in the head of a dead otyugh, which comes alive if the sword is removed.

4. Murder Hole
   - 3 goblins use blowguns and darts coated with goblin poison.

5. West Hallway
   - Holiday decorations. Bell alarm requires DC 20 Wisdom (Perception) or alters the goblins in the Armory (Area 6).

6. Goblin Armory
   - Racks of goblin weapons. 5 goblins busy tossing weapons onto shelves. If attacked, two will run to the Feasting Room (Area 8) for reinforcements.

7. Prison
   - Five large cages. DC 10 Dexterity (thieves' tools) to open. One contains a captured princess with no memory other than that she is a princess. She is actually an animated doll but doesn't know it. Use noble stats.

8. Feasting Room
   - 20 goblins and 1 nilbog at a long table eating the stolen food. They have festive hats on. 2 boars graze on turkey bones.

9. Garbage Hole
   - 50' deep hole which smells revolting. A scrawny goblin guard called Wabs, bullied by her kin, will aid the PCs if they are kind.

10. Smoking Room
    - Upside down room; furniture on the ceiling, suspended by wires and spikes. Two goblins sit in the chairs upside down, smoking cigars, discussing philosophy. In the room are 1d4 green cigars which give advantage on all Intelligence checks and saves for the next hour.

11. Harem
    - 6 goblin concubines of both sexes. They attempt to seduce the PCs. A kiss from a concubine transits goblin poison.

12. Alchemy Lab
    - Tables piled with strange tools. A large fire pit in the center is tended by Spunch, a lone nilbog. This is where the goblin poison is made. Spunch can be persuaded to make an antidote.

13. Kitchen
    - Big cauldrons. 3 drunk goblins argue over stolen bottles of mead.

14. Bedroom
    - Hammocks and cots. 5 goblins sleep. Treasure includes 52gp, 2 pewter figurines with 200gp each, 4 daggers, 3 unopened presents, and a rod of animate object which will return the animated doll princess in Area 7 to her doll form.

15. Throne Room
    - All the stolen enters stacked in a big pile. 12 goblins and a goblin king (ogre who can cast charm person as a 3rd-level spell, save DC 14) on a wooden throne. If attacked, the goblins pick up the stolen presents and rush to escape in the dirigible in the Pig Ballroom (Area 16).

16. Pig Ballroom
    - Huge, grotesque dirigible made of pigskin filled with flammable gas. The king and as many goblins as possible board and try to escape with the presents through a hole in the ceiling. Dirigible is AC 15, 40 hit points, or explodes with fire damage. It takes 3 rounds to ascend and escape, gaining 30' per round.

---

By Kiel Chenier; Illustrated by Ellis Goodson
One Page Adventures by Morrus